ALMA MATER

To you our Alma Mater now we sing;
In grand unison, let our voices ring.
Where e'er our paths in future years may lead, may you be proud of our every deed.

To thee o Sacred Heart we pledge our faith; Oh, keep it true in years to come we pray.
The scarlet colors with the white we'll wear, and win or lose, we'll take as our share.

Foreword

As our eyes turn heavenwards and behold the satellites encircling our earth, our self-complacency is disturbed; both as a nation and as individuals. Great pressure and uneasiness prevails among people and nations. The need for unity is strongly felt--unity, under God, among nations, people, individuals.

This spirit of unity prevails at Sacred Heart. Accomplishments are made by working together, praying together, playing together. Each student contributes his share for the good of the school as a whole. Joys, failures, triumphs, disappointments, and success of the school are felt and shared by each.

Because of this spirit of working as a unified whole, Sacred Heart has felt keenly the need for a Recreation Center, a center in the circle of unity where all--parents, faculty, and students--may meet and share their accomplishments. This dream has finally become a reality and UNITY reaches a new high.

It is this spirit that has prompted the Corier staff of '58 to select UNITY as the theme of this annual. As you turn the pages of this book, you will sense this spirit of unity in school life... clubs...faculty...counselors...social activities...prayers...the new Recreation Center...each contributing to strengthen unity that predominates in the spirit of Sacred Heart.

Symbol of Unity...Our New Recreation Center

GROUNDBREAKING

Two small parishioners, J. Yanco and K. Crittenden are wielding the first shovel of dirt at the Groundbreaking Ceremonies, May 15, 1957. The ceremonial breaking of the ground, with a silver-plated shovel, was done by presidents of Parish Societies and Representatives of Sacred Heart School.

BLESSING OF THE CORNERSTONE

Father George Zabelka, pastor, places mortar on the cornerstone after the blessing of the cornerstone for the new gymnasium. Assisting are Father Charles Buescher, assistant pastor, altar boys, boy scouts and parishioners.

RECREATION CENTER COMPLETED

It will be to Sacred Heart a center of UNITY, a place to weld and strengthen the circle of students, faculty, and parents. "United We Will Stand!"

DEDICATED

MR. EDWARD ABRAHAM

Coach Abraham was quite an athlete even in his boyhood years. At the age of 13 he won the junior national Olympics in Lansing and a memorable trip to Atlantic City, New Jersey, where he was placed the 14th out of the 50 participants.

He attended high school at Lansing Central where he played football, basketball and golf. He made all state guard in basketball and second string quarterback in football.

Mr. Abraham went to Central Michigan College, where he earned his degree in physical education. While at Central Michigan, he played freshman baseball and basketball until he injured his knee and was forced to quit.

In 1950, Mr. Abraham moved from St. Paul's in Owosso to his present position as coach for Flint Sacred Heart. Since he has been here he tied for the city parochial championship in 1952 with Flint St. Mikes and also scooped the baseball and basketball championship that year.

In basketball at Sacred Heart he has won the District Championship three times, and reached the regional finals twice.

Under his expert supervision, Stan Zielinski was able to break an all time city record by scoring 48 points against MSD, the second to break the record for Sacred Heart - Dave Benjamin scored 42 in 1953.

Mr. Abraham's love for sports, and his eagerness in his work with the students, along with his kind and understanding manner have made him one of the outstanding high school coaches in Flint, and tops among the students of Sacred Heart.

TO OUR COACH

Gratitude to a top-notch coach, an understanding, helpful teacher, and a close, loyal friend is somewhat difficult to express. We, the graduating class of 1958, however, hope to show our appreciation in a visual tribute. Thus we dedicate this, our Corier of 1958, to Mr. Edward Abraham.

As a coach, he has brought to our school victories, not only in games but in the high ideals of sportsmanship and leadership.

As a teacher, he has shown many a

Modern History class how the roots of the present lie deep in the past.

As our friend, he is loyal and true. In school activities, curricular and extra-curricular, he is around to help. At pep rallies, dances, he is there seeing that things run smoothly.

We thank you, Mr. Abraham, for the years you have spent here at Sacred Heart and we raise the hope that you will still be around when the future generation, our children, attend Sacred Heart.

As a coach, Mr. Abraham encourages his team during half time.

As a teacher, Mr. Abraham demonstrates a science project to his club.

As a friend, Mr. Abraham enjoys participating in many of the school activities.

His Excellency, the Most Reverend Joseph H. Albers, D. D. J. C. D., Bishop of the Lansing Diocese and Father Francis Martin, Superintendent of schools, presiding over the annual Teachers Institute, Nazareth College, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Our Administrators Crystalize Our Spirit of Unity

Reverend Mother Mary Joseph, O. P.

Catholic education in the Diocese of Lansing is indebted to the able direction of Bishop Albers and Father Francis Martin, Superintendent of Diocesan Schools. The task of supervising, necessitated by the manifold scholastic and extracurricular activities, demands leaders of varied and unusual talents. Educating students spiritually, mentally, and physically fulfills the Catholic philosophy which our Bishop and Father Martin support by their example and interest.

Rev. Mother Mary Joseph is the Mother General of the Dominican Sisters of Oxford, Michigan. The fifteen Dominican Sisters of Sacred Heart received their education and spiritual guidance in the hallowed portals of their beautiful Convent. Their lives are spent in showing us the way of Christian unity and good citizenship.

Our Pastor

Father George Zabelka

Father George Zabelka, pastor of Sacred Heart ranks high in the esteem and affection of all the students.

Through his firmness and determination he has given us an example of strong character and sound convictions.

Many have experienced the benefit of his priestly presence, and his friendly manner invites confidence in his ability to solve any problem presented.

Our New Recreation Center stands as a monument to his executive ability and interest in unifying activities at Sacred Heart, thus solidifying the highly efficient functioning of our school system.

The Faculty Maintains Unity--

Father Charles B. Beuscher

A warm personality, touched off with friendliness, understanding, willingness to give his assistance to any student, encouragement for everyone and an athletic director to top them all....is there any wonder why Father Buescher has been and continues to be a favorite among the students of Sacred Heart.

Fr. Beuscher and Fr. Zabelka relax with a good book after a hard day's work. As they share the problems of running a growing parish, so too, they share their time for recreation.

Throughout Our School

Our Dominican Sisters are hard working, kind and co-operative. Without them here, we would gain little and loose much.

They devote their time to us in more ways than one. In classes they train our minds and mold our characters.

In our extra-curricular activites, as well as in our school work, they give us their support, advice and aid.

To us they show patience and understanding; to them we show gratitude and appreciation.

Our Principal, Sr. M. Bonaventure examines the records in her new modern files, an attractive and useful addition to our school office.

Sister M. Josephine reads the minutes at a faculty meeting held to discuss ways to achieve maximum efficiency in the school. Listening intently to Sr. M. Josephine are L. to R. Sr. M. Louise, Sr. M. Gabrielle, Sr. M. Bonaventure, Fr. Charles Buescher, Fr. George Zabelka, Mr. Loranger, Sr. M. Aloysius, Sr. M. Pius, and Sr. M. Martin.

Sacred Heart---A Stronghold of Unity

Here within the shadows of these buildings, bodies were strengthened, minds were formed, souls were developed.

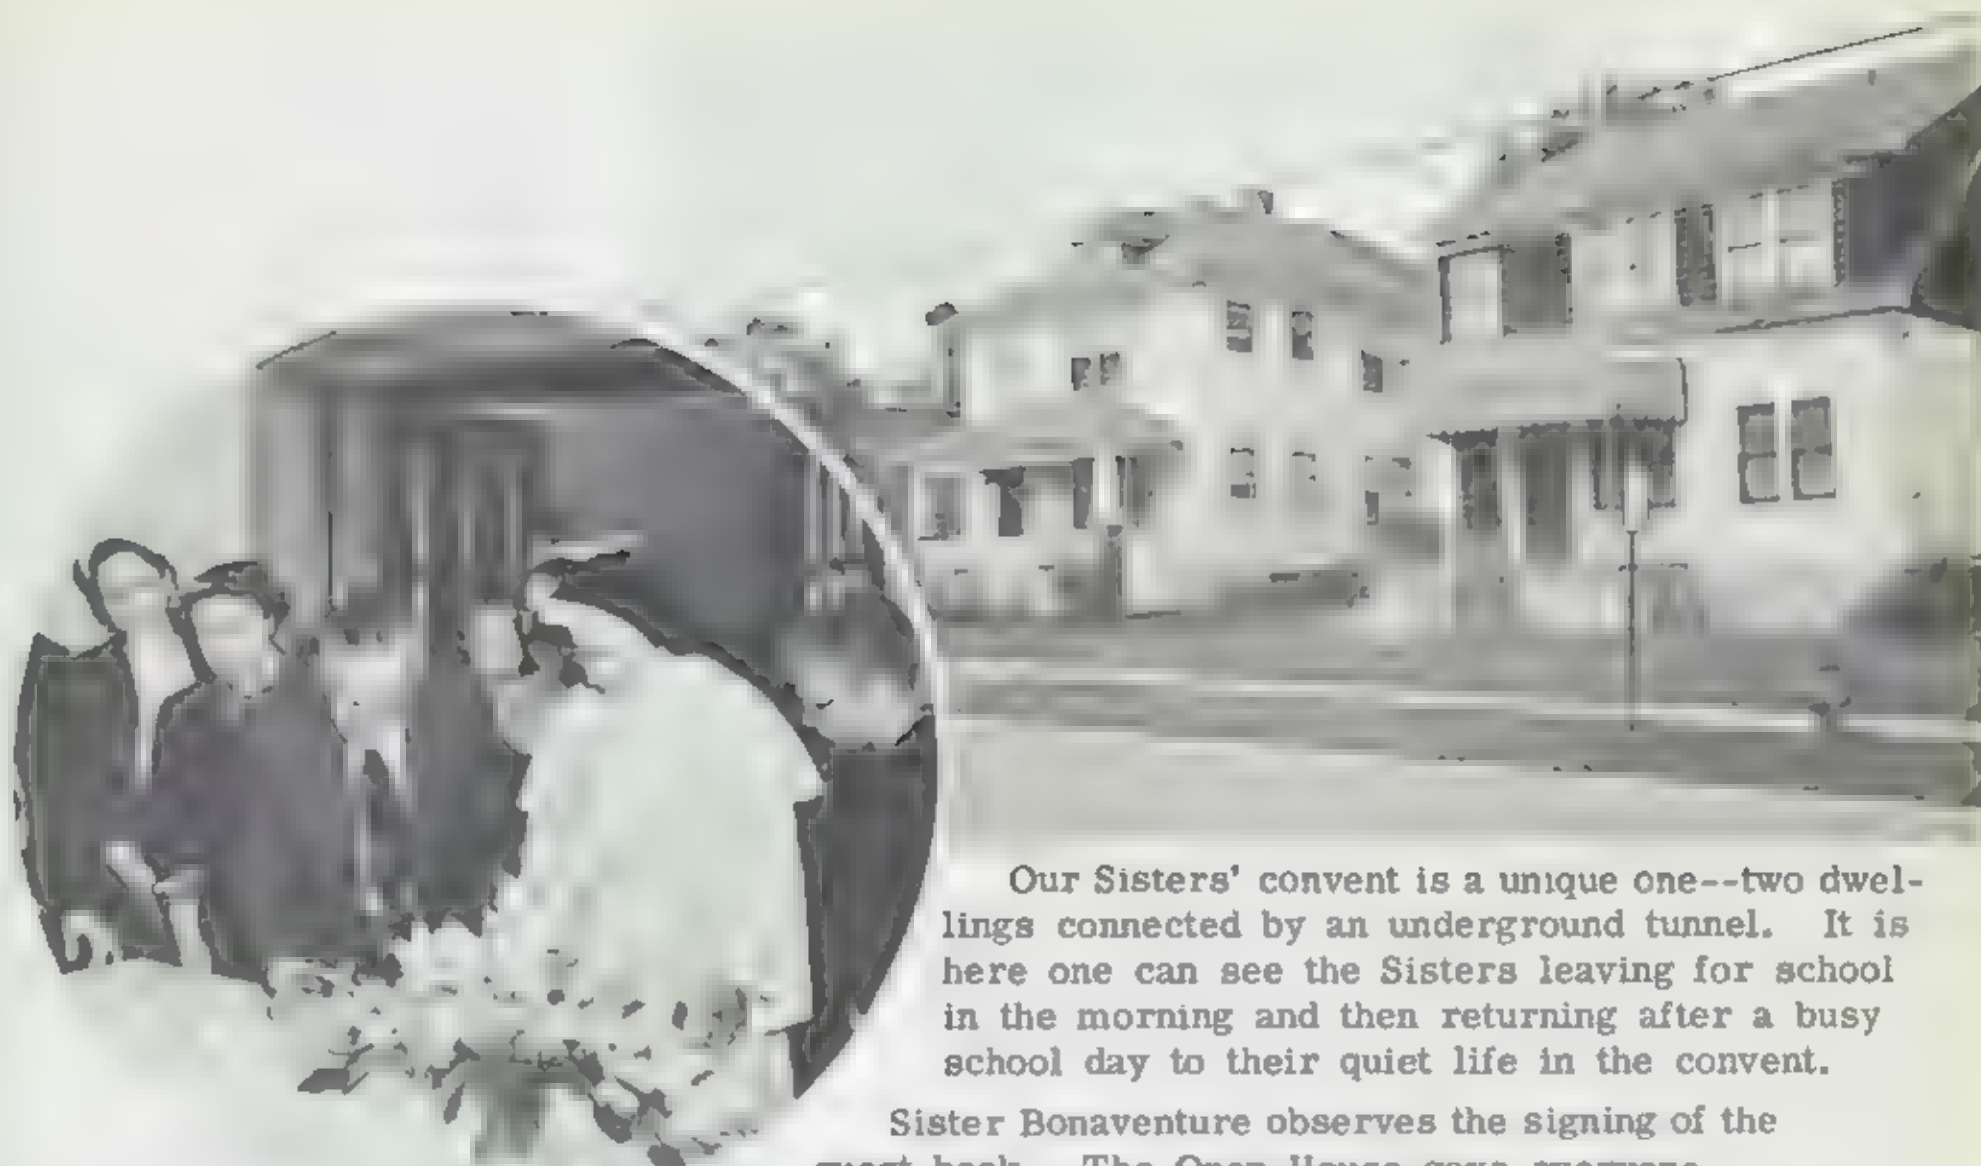

These friendly walls hold fond memories of happy hours, cherished friendships, serious endeavor and lasting achievement.

Wherever a Catholic school is found there is a Catholic church, for Religion is the starting point for Christian education. The Church interior is simple but beautiful.

Here is one place where the student may always find relief from the world, may be refreshed in the determination to persevere in his studies, may always be uplifted.

Open house finds these visitors, both old and young, fascinated and charmed by the display of trophies on the main corridor, leading from the library.

Our Sisters' convent is a unique one--two dwellings connected by an underground tunnel. It is here one can see the Sisters leaving for school in the morning and then returning after a busy school day to their quiet life in the convent.

Sister Bonaventure observes the signing of the guest book. The Open House gave everyone an opportunity to become a little closer to their pastor and the school faculty.

Through these doors pass the cares of the world. There is always a helping hand and a friendly word waiting for those who visit the Rectory.

Time for old friends to get together. Father Zabelka gives Mr. Galarno a hearty welcome.

FALL

With the crisp, cool weather and the changing autumn leaves, we begin once again turning the pages of a new school year.

The opening school doors reveal familiar and crowded halls --a welcome sight to the returning students. The new freshmen breathe in the exciting atmosphere. Old friends and new gather at doorways and lockers to discuss all sorts of things....books, clothes, teachers, classes, friends, lunchtime.

Although Sacred Heart students look for opportunities of having fun, the real reason for school stands out plainly before them--the pursuit of KNOWLEDGE and a greater love of GOD.

A series of clubs swing into action. Each one provides something for varied yet common interests. Hot tussles on cold days take place regularly on the football field and find the school crowd cheering the players on more vigorously than ever in the brisk fall weather.

Wherever you find the students of Sacred Heart you will find that there prevails a distinctive school spirit--a united spirit--as the circle of unity welds stronger each day of the changing seasons.

In Unity We Find Strength to Initiate Effectively A New School Year

Freshmen--United Through

Sister Mary Plus,
O. P.

Mr. Edward Abraham

The group of newcomers that have been roaming around the halls looking for the right classroom are the "Freshies".

At the start of school the freshmen were busy getting acquainted with a new school situation. Though they found it hard at first, they have settled down to the daily routine and have found it less difficult then it had appeared.

Working together with friends, teachers, and above all with God can assure them that as individuals they will develop into the type of students of which Sacred Heart can be proud.

They are being introduced into the vast fields of knowledge which they must conquer before they can reach the top.

The freshmen look with anticipation to their future years at Sacred Heart High.

Studious Freshmen Reflect

The Freshmen have been busy getting acquainted and exploring the fields of General Science, Mathematics, Religion, Industrial Arts, and English. Their success will stem from the time and effort which they apply to these classes.

An activity period, in which they participate in a favorite club, ends the day for most of the Freshmen. Others may spend an extra half hour in the famous detention room.

R. Klein and R. Lewandowski illustrate the Sacraments, as the channels of grace which take up a good portion of the Religion class in the Freshmen year.

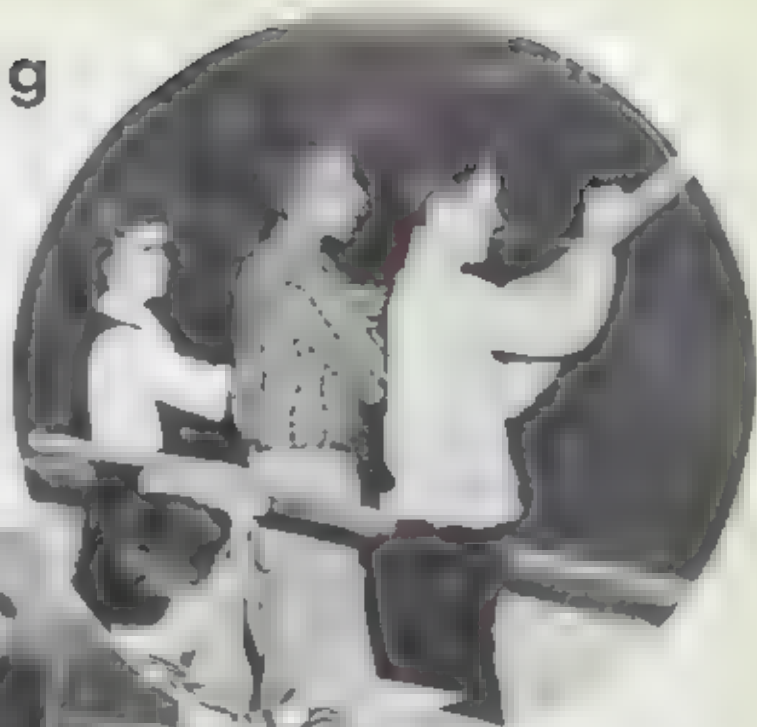

Sister Louis looks on as S. Piotrowski reads "The Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner" and J. Grimes, awaiting his turn, stands shyly in the background.

D. Pastor gropes for an answer in Orientation class as Sr. Bonaventure waits patiently for a brilliant reply.

Christian Characters In the Making

S. Fowler struggles over the effect of the weight of an airplane traveling through space, in plotting a circle graph. L. Koryciak and D. Bruneau try to assist in solving the problem.

Mr. Loranger keeps a watchful eye on the Freshmen as they use up their extra time in study period.

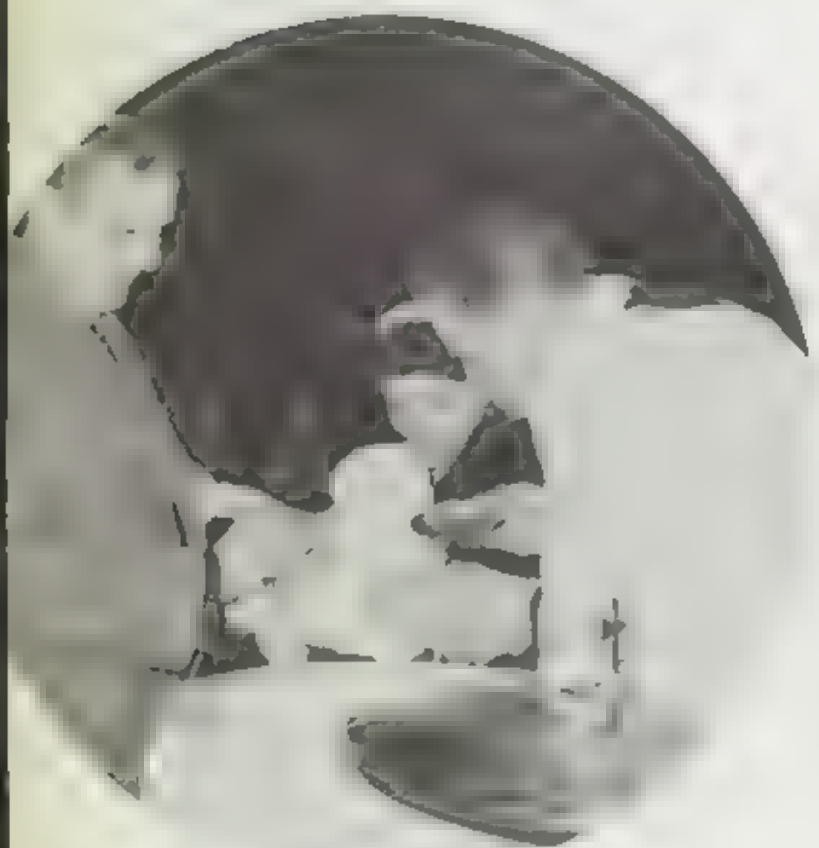

A panel discussion keeps the freshmen class up to date on good conversation. D. Kunc raises her hand to answer a question directed to her as the other members of the panel; D. Jackson, D. Weidner, and E. Taylor wait their turn.

GATEWAY TO ALL KNOWLEDGE OF

"Our Lives Become Closer Imitations of Christ"

One of the most important facets in the education of the Sacred Heart students is the practice of Christian principles. Our first and greatest teacher is Christ Himself. Each day finds the students at Mass and each class begins with a prayer. This constant emphasis on the spiritual led the seniors to take for their life's motto, "Not for time, but for eternity."

The seniors witness the sacrament of Baptism, reliving each word throughout the holy ceremony, as Fr. George baptizes Joanne Marie.

J. McKeon enters the confessional as J. Trudell leaves to recite her penance. J. Wisniewski, F. Kunc, J. Groshek, and J. Slupke await to receive the graces of this sacrament.

The student body unites in prayer daily at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass using missals as is evidenced by these seniors praying devoutly.

Through Sacraments and Prayer

Time out to ask God for a petition you want granted. J. Slupka puts aside his other work to talk with God through prayer while lighting a vigil light at the Sorrowful Mother Shrine.

The perfect way to attend Mass each day is to receive Holy Communion. J. Howell and P. Sutter bow their heads in silent adoration while R. Jakiemiec receives Holy Communion from Fr. George assisted by J. Verdier.

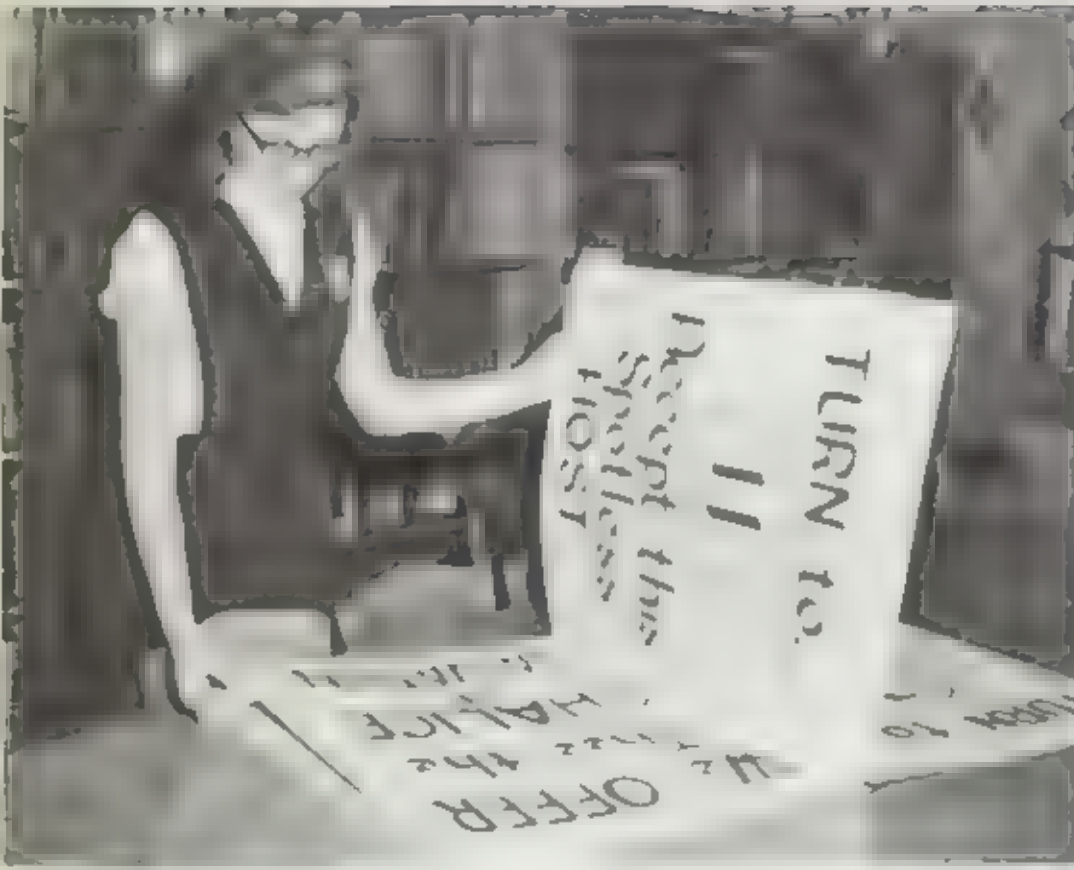

Students' Interests Are

LETTERING CLUB

Students in the Lettering Club prove to be a valuable asset to our school. With many activities to be sponsored and advertised, the Lettering Club provides us with students who learn to make beautiful, attractive and inviting posters.

Pictured is Jacquelyn Lamson who examines her completed guide of the Mass, an excellent example of skill.

SCIENCE CLUB

A science club has been organized this year for the enthusiastic young inventors and scientists of Sacred Heart. They have formed the 312th Jets Club associated with Michigan State University Engineering Department. Members of this skilled class enter projects in the annual Flint Science Fair, National Fair, and Michigan State Exhibit. Beginning to assemble their projects are M. Lamson, R. Ralph, and D. Weidner.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

Young girls attracted by the self-satisfying, helpful work of nursing and the crisp white uniform of this career gather together in the Future Nurses Club.

Reports on nursing are given, and a book on the life of a nurse and her experiences is often read. Several occasions find them making small favors to cheer up hospital patients. Making pajamas for the sick and poor was one of the highlights of the year. Pictured are from L. to R. S. Bednarski, S. Protrowski, B. Grappin, P. Metzger, and J. Voelker. Directing the girls is Sister M. Pius.

Unified In Clubs

LIBRARY CLUB

Under the direction of Sister Mary Aloystus, the student librarians become skilled in the handling of the library. They assume some of the responsibilities of checking, stamping, and organizing books, and so become very helpful to both the students and the faculty in finding material among the 3,000 volumes that grace the shelves of Sacred Heart's Library.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

The principles of each sport are thoroughly discussed and debated in this lively club of sports enthusiasts.

The boys also exchange ideas on sportsmanship, teamwork and sports apparel.

Several boys along with athletic director Fr. Buescher and coach Mr. Abraham examine various uniforms.

Even athletes must keep in style.

BOOSTERS CLUB

The posters decorating the halls before the important football and basketball games are the work of this organization. They also boost school spirit by performing skits at the principle pep rallies. This club is composed not only of the cheerleaders but also of other students who are interested in improving school spirit. They have raised funds by an active part in the carnival and also by bake sales.

CAREER CLUB

The main purpose of this club, as its title suggests is to discuss and look into various future careers.

During the course of the year, there have been speakers from various professions such as a dentist, a lawyer, and a nurse, who have given the students an idea of how to make the best of their schooling and help to choose a career.

In addition to their guest speakers the students also enjoyed exciting filmstrips and valuable reading material.

Football----A Man's Game

The fighting Cougars of Sacred Heart tried to make the best of a losing season. Although the Cougars only won one game, they entered every game with a spirit of fighting, and nobody, not one player, gave up the team. United in defeat as well as in victory they demonstrated the silent spirit of unity.

The Cougars lacked size and man power but never gave up the ghost. The largest man weighed about 170 with the smallest man weighing 110 lbs. This, coupled with the smallest squad in Sacred Heart's history leaving no substitutes, provided for the fate of the Cougars.

The Cougars best game and only win was against St. Mary of Flint. Here the Cougars rose to a giant size as they went on to crush St. Mary's by the score of 27 to 7.

WINTER

Icy winds blow, the snow piles high and winter seems here to stay as the ever open school door at Sacred Heart welcomes the cold, shivering students into its warm yellow-lighted halls each morning.

Teachers, always there early, open classroom doors and students file in to prepare for the day's work. The clock shows one minute to eight and ticks loudly, "hurry, hurry," to the students just coming in. Some of them make the eight o'clock bell, others, well, just about.

Exams arrive with a buzz of activity as students try to cram and remember all that they learned in the first semester. "Oh, why oh why didn't I start studying this earlier," is read on many an anxious face.

But we have something to relieve the headaches and tension of these mid-term exams. Sports and social activities are just the prescribed thing.

The fierce, wild, fast-pacing tempo of the ball on the basketball floor brings on rousing displays of enthusiasm and school spirit.

The Christmas Dance and the Ring Swirl bring the students together to enjoy each other's company in the new gym that has come onto the scene. From this time forward all activities will radiate around the Recreation Center, the tie that holds the student body ever together.

A full school year of trial and triumph has been surpassed by the sophomores. All the procedures of high school are now an open book to the tenth graders. They are earnest in their efforts to increase their learning power, and absorb all that is presented to them to fulfill their destiny.

Their main project this past year was planning a tribute to the Juniors who received their class rings, by having a breakfast and Ring Swirl Dance in their honor.

The sophomores will return in the Fall as Juniors and they hope to continue their upward progress in reaching their goal----graduation.

Sophomores---Developing Their

The Sophomores study their profile charts and graphs after taking a personality test. D. Kowalski and A. Loli seem rather pleased with their discoveries about themselves, while J. Plunkey and R. Pontisso anxiously count up their scores.

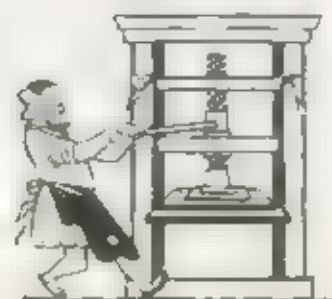

Shop class, supervised by Mr. Loranger, proves interesting to the Sophomore boys as they manipulate the lathes. T. Banaszak and R. Pontisso absorb Mr. Loranger's explanation on an important factor in making a hack-saw.

Sr. Reginald's adept fingership in the skirt as she demonstrates to J. Stybert an effective way to sew in a seam, while M. Moran and B. Flood watch so they will be able to do as well when it comes to their turn.

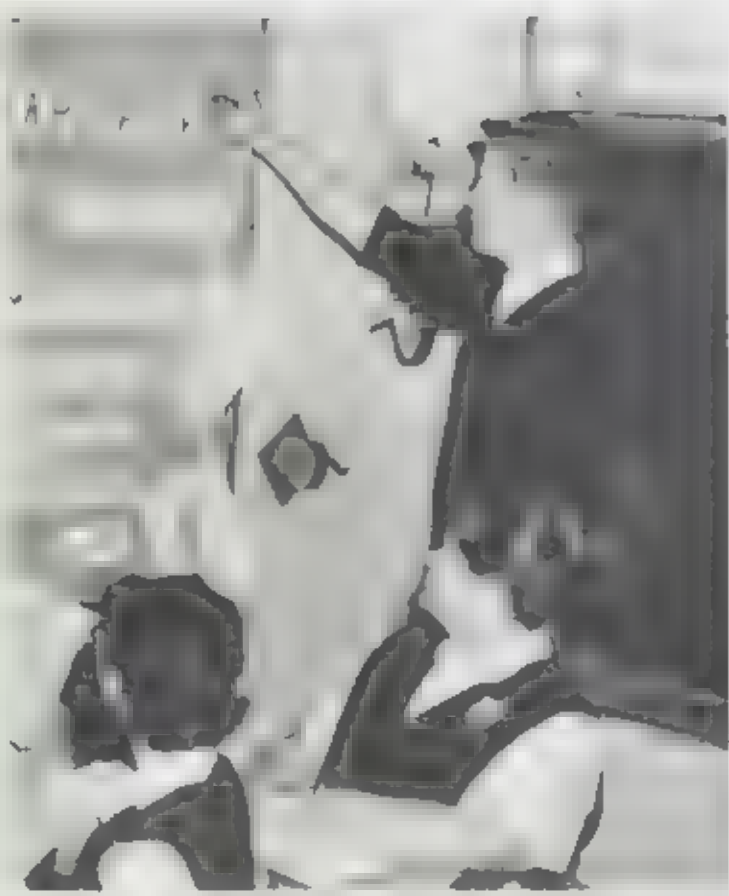

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

There is always a demand for skilled tradesman. In our modern, well-equipped shop, Mr. Loranger teaches the high school boys all the fundamentals involved in the running of machinery and the cutting of steel and iron into useful tools.

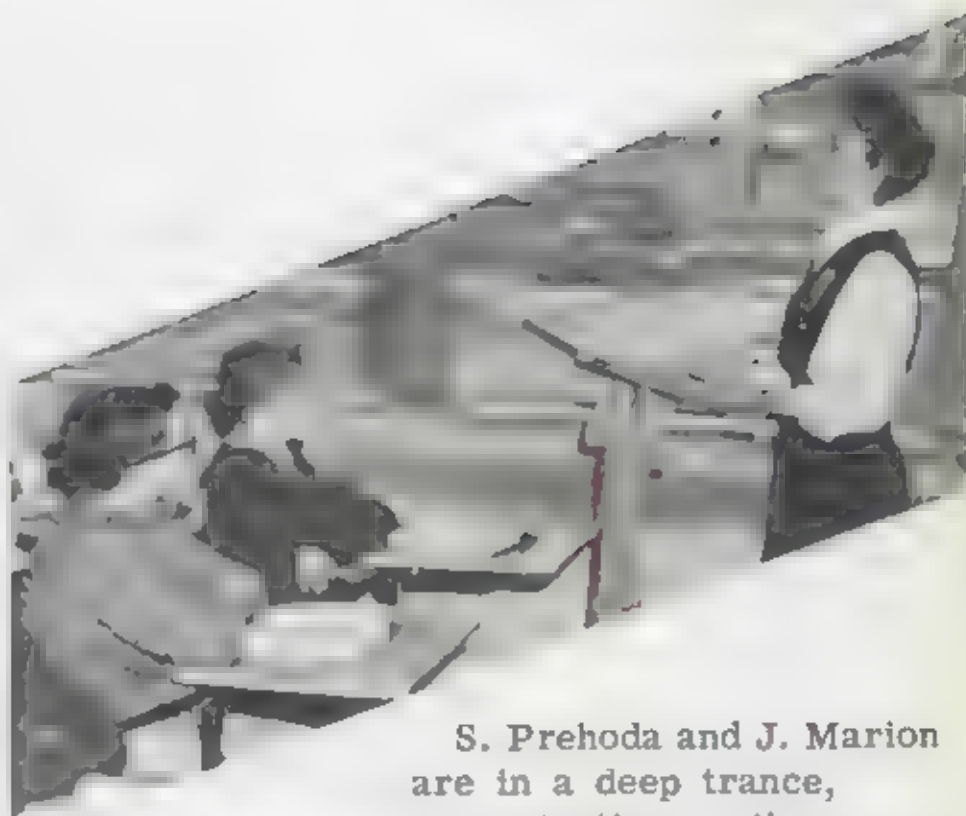

Abilities and Talents

R. Pnacek demonstrates the purpose of English to A. Lolli and A. Vieda, a booster so necessary in every English class.

An interesting way to get a English word out of a Latin word is demonstrated to the class by L. Joseph.

Among the Sophomores, Geometry is popular but challenging. R. Pnacek illustrates to the class how he would construct the perpendicular bisector of a line.

S. Prehoda and J. Marion are in a deep trance, concentrating on the subject "What Girls Don't Like About Boys". I. Makohon has just brought up this subject during a class discussion.

Retreat--A Time of Moment---A Moment of Silence

Retreat is a time for spiritual inventory. It is a time during Passion Week for praying, reading, thinking, and deep solace. The annual retreat finds Sacred Heart in just that spirit.

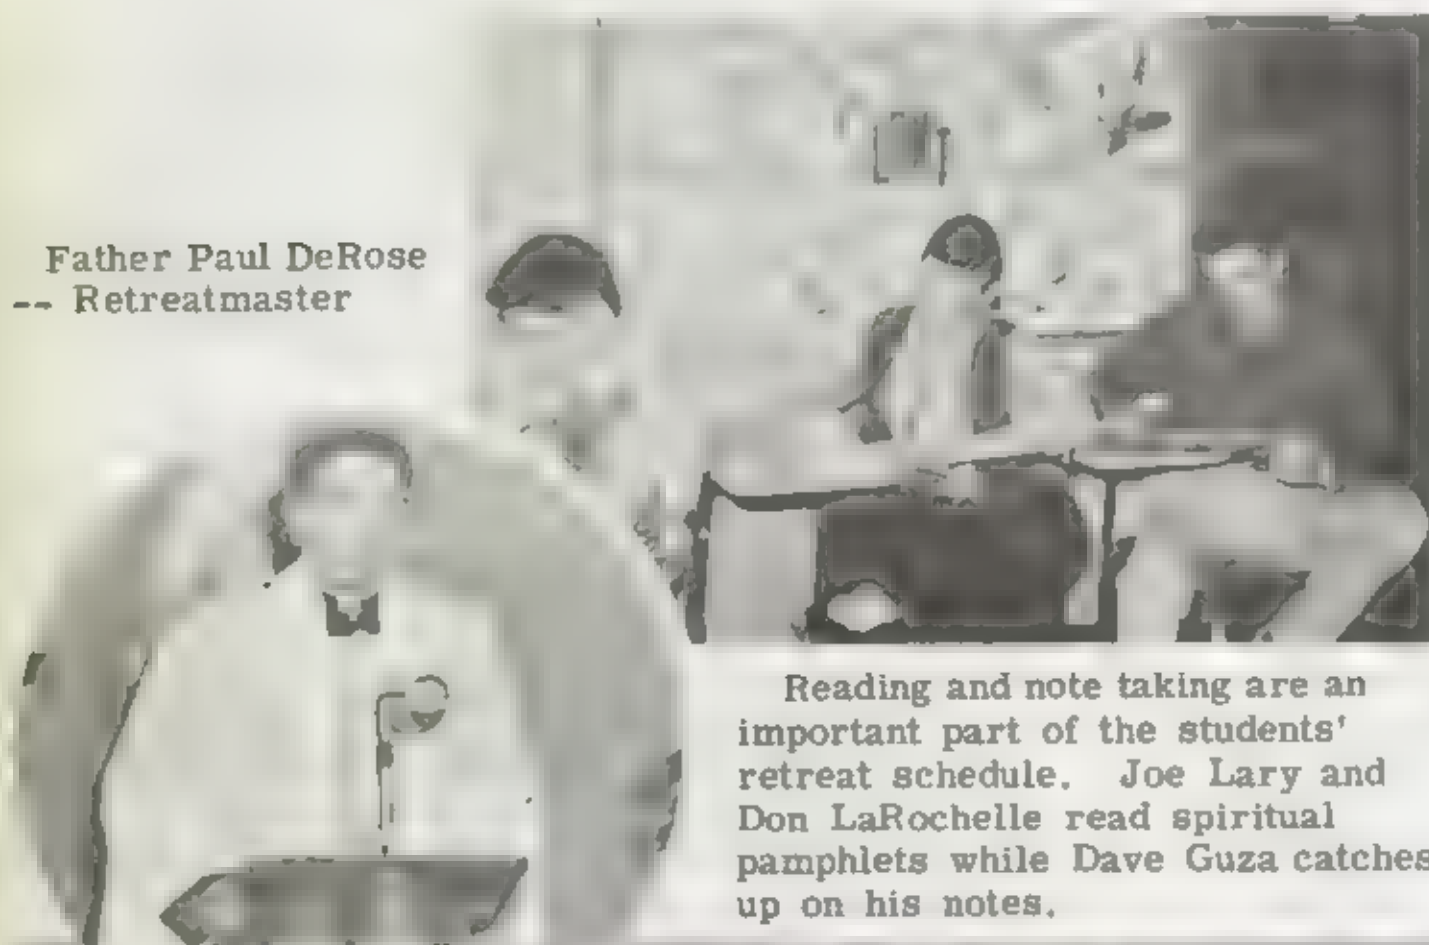

The students imbibe this atmosphere of meditation, prayer and silence. All welcome the opportunity afforded them to build a stronger foundation for their spiritual life.

No longer are the halls bustling with activity.

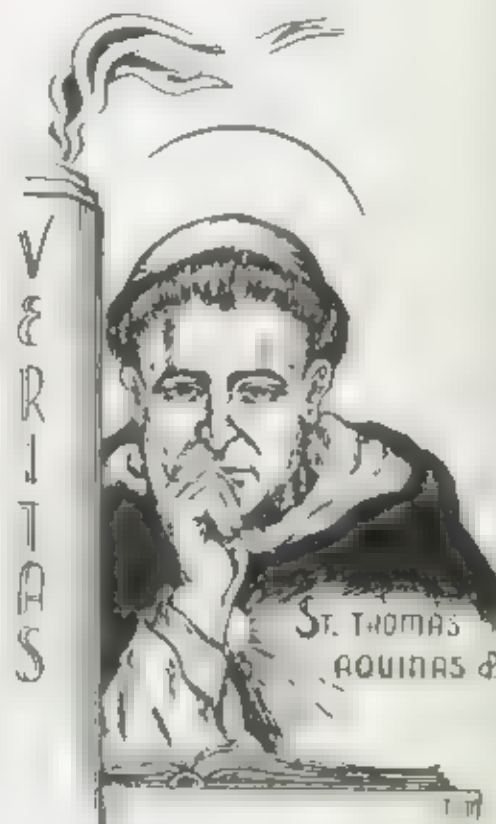

The students are found in their homerooms reading pamphlets and taking notes to refresh their minds on the sermon and make practical application.

The retreatants were inspired and stimulated by Father DeRose's candid conferences, profound in content. He strongly emphasized the importance of good Catholic teen-agers.

Father Paul DeRose
-- Retreatmaster

Reading and note taking are an important part of the students' retreat schedule. Joe Lary and Don LaRoche read spiritual pamphlets while Dave Guza catches up on his notes.

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is the keynote of the retreat. These Freshman exhibit fervor and devotion as they follow the priest at the altar.

Centenary Year--An Active Year For Sodalists

Striving for high Catholic ideals, and Mary-like actions in conduct and dress, the students of Sacred Heart join their efforts in a spiritual organization, the Sodality. The primary purpose of the Sodality is to help Sodalists come a little closer to spiritual perfection through the imitation of Mary.

Each week the Sodalists gather for their meeting, during which they have reading from the Queen's Work, a national Sodality sponsored magazine. Discussions on current activities are planned and the rules of the Sodality reviewed.

Some of the year's highlights are: a thanksgiving basket for a poor family, a spiritual bouquet for the Holy Father at Christmas, the reception of new Sodalists in a ceremony on December 8, and the May Crowning.

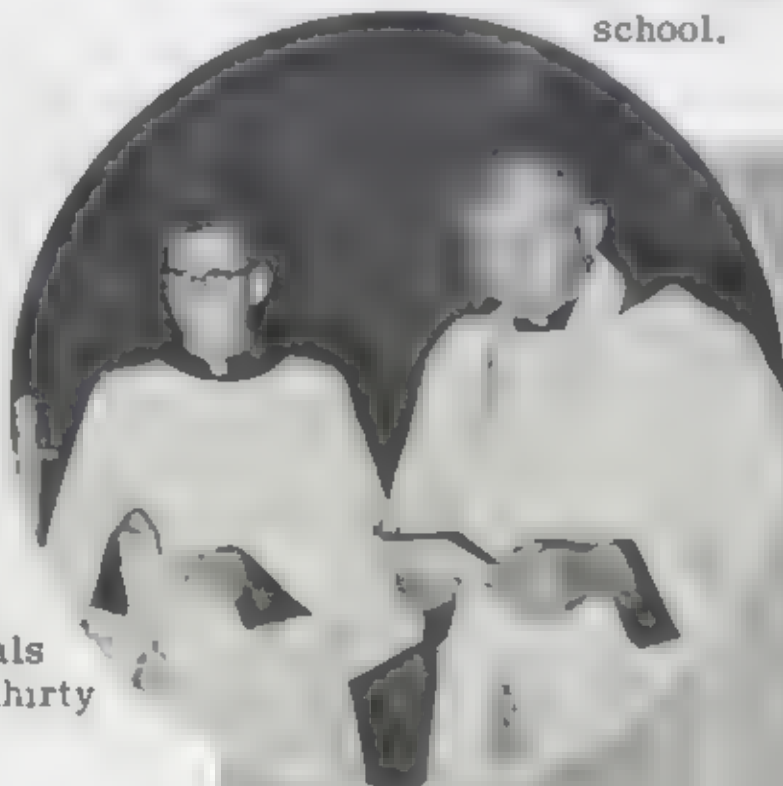

Faithful Sodalists, Jean Trudell and Janet Klein, play the organ during the reception ceremony. Jean and Janet have played for daily Masses and novenas throughout most of their four years of high school.

TO JESUS THROUGH MARY

Frank Kunc assists Fr. Charles Buescher as he blesses the medals which will be distributed to the thirty new Sodalists.

Kneeling before the altar of Our Blessed Mother are the Sodality officers, as they make their consecration to Mary. Fr. C. Buescher recites the prayers of installation. L. to R. are Treasurer, Katherine Jurecich, Vice-Prefect, Janet Klein, and Prefect, Rosalie Jakiemiec. (Secretary Juanita Blackman, is not pictured.)

"Today There is Ringing in Praise of God"

The clock chimes strike Mid-Night as Rosalie Jakiemiec, Sodality Prefect, majestically carries the Infant King to the crib accompanied by the angels Margaret Jamrog, Marian Slupka, and Carol Grandas.

Sodality Girls pride in traditionally setting up the Nativity scene at Christmas time. Above Marigrace Pascuzzo hands the small figures to Jeannine Howell while Rosalie Jackiemiec and Phyllis Koziel place in the wreaths. Below Marigrace Pascuzzo and Jeannine Howell put the finishing touches on the Christmas trees.

Sisters and students bow their heads in adoration before receiving Holy Communion during the most significant Mass of the year.

The girls Glee Club fills the air with echoes of "Today There is Ringing in Praise of God" and other familiar Christmas carols before the Mid-Night Mass.

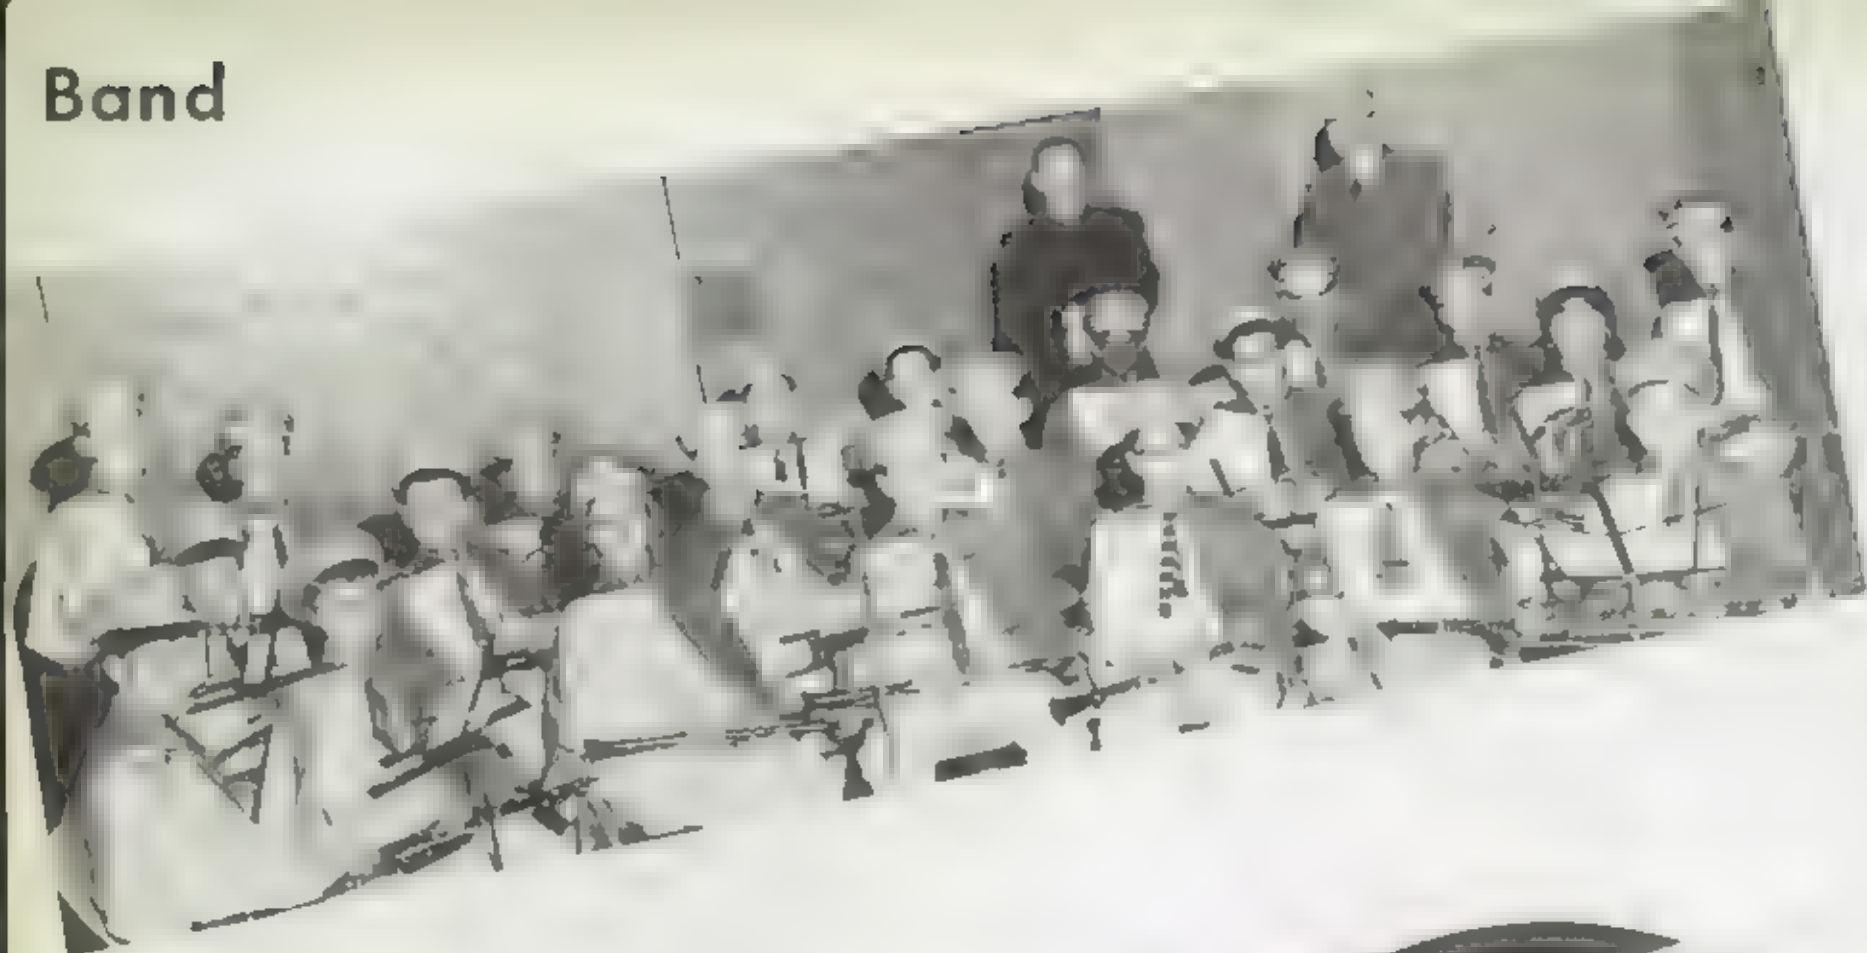

Carol Murphy and Mary Ann Gavulic pause at the Christmas crib in silent adoration and praise as they behold their Infant King.

Dennis Viele and Dave Guza make Christmas garlands and wreaths which decorate both the Church and the school during the festive season.

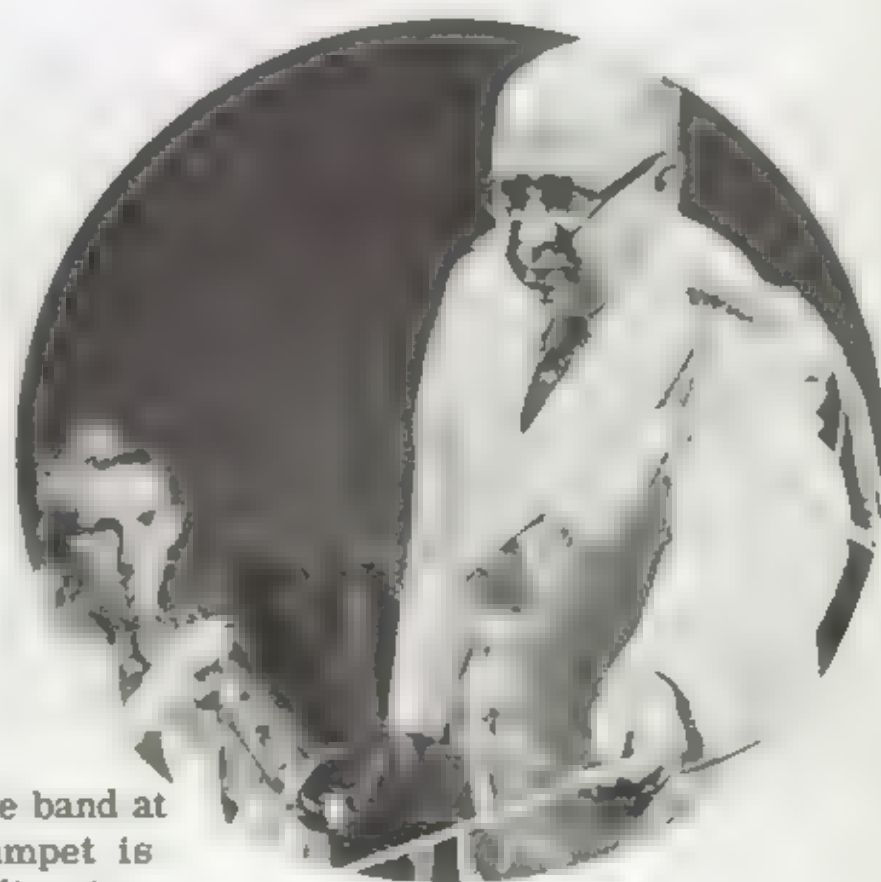

Just to be different the Junior boys placed the outdoor crib high above the front entrance this year. The four foot silver star was the creation of Ed Niziol and Dave Guza while Joe Lary and Tom Kubik add the colorful Christmas bulbs.

Band

Under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Johnson, the band enlivens and adds color to many an activity ...the senior play, parish programs, pep rallies, dances. Faithful practice and hard work are symbolic of success, and the band is striving earnestly through these two means to attain it. Band members are: L. to R. Front Row--C. Zemore, D. Bruneau, B. Metzger, E. Breed, J. Joseph, J. Grygowski, M. Yancho; Middle Row--D. Pastor, G. Makranyi, G. Hemsall, J. McMillan, P. Lary, E. Gonzalez; Back Row--M. Howko, R. Lewandowski, S. Weiss, E. Truhan, R. Mr. Gilbert Johnson directs the band at the Dedication. Playing the trumpet is L. Zielinski, the student band director.

and Choristers Add Spark to Activities

Melodious sounds echo through the halls, as the Glee Club rehearses prior to such annual events as midnight Mass, radio programs, the senior play, music festivals, and the candlelight procession which climaxes the calendar agenda of the year.

The voices of the choristers, who number seventy this year, developed with beauty and harmony under the competent direction of Sister M. Loretta. New, cardinal-red choral gowns with white satin stoles add to the grandeur of their voices. The repertoire of the choristers is very versatile ranging from Canticles in praise of the Mother of God to light-hearted compositions which brighten the day.

Another talented senior is Geraldine Bruzewski who accompanied the Glee Club on the piano during the Dedication week programs.

-----Cougar Cagers Rank Third in C. P. L.

The Cougars started out on the right foot this year compiling five consecutive victories before suffering their first defeat at the hands of Holy Redeemer. Redeemer (class C), and St. Michaels (class B) were the only two teams to defeat the Cougars in Parochial league, each accomplishing this feat twice.

Height and previous varsity experience were two main factors for their winding up in third place in the Parochial league with an 8-4 record. They finished the overall season with a commendable 11-6 record.

The boys played praiseworthy ball during the district tournament in which they reached the finals before being defeated by Hoover High School, in a time action packed game, which was decided in overtime. The boys put all their effort in to the game but due to lack of breaks, and a bad shooting percentage, the outcome was not in their favor. This game marked the climax of a well-played, well-coached basketball season for Sacred Heart.

RECORDS ARE MADE TO BE BROKEN

Cougar's top star, Stan Zielinski, broke the city scoring title against M.S.D. by scoring 48 points, he ranks as top scorer in the C.P.L. and second in the City of Flint. Stan hooped 219 points in 12 games for an 18.3 average. Stan gained 20 more foul tosses than his closest rival and crowned his achievement by making the all Star Parochial team.

The Ring Ceremony Links The Juniors Inseparably To Their School

Under the protecting eyes of the Sacred Heart, Father George Zabelka gives his blessing to David Guza after the reception of his class ring.

A milestone was reached for the Juniors upon the reception of their class ring.

The Torch, with the inscription "Veritas", stands for our motto, Truth. The Shield signifies strength and courage, and the three beads above the torch represents the mysteries of the Rosary. The class ring is a symbol of unity and loyalty to our school.

Before the beautifully decorated altar of red roses and white snapdragons, the Junior girls solemnly approach the altar to receive their class rings.

The Junior class enjoys a hearty breakfast traditionally prepared for them by the Sophomores upon the reception of their class rings.

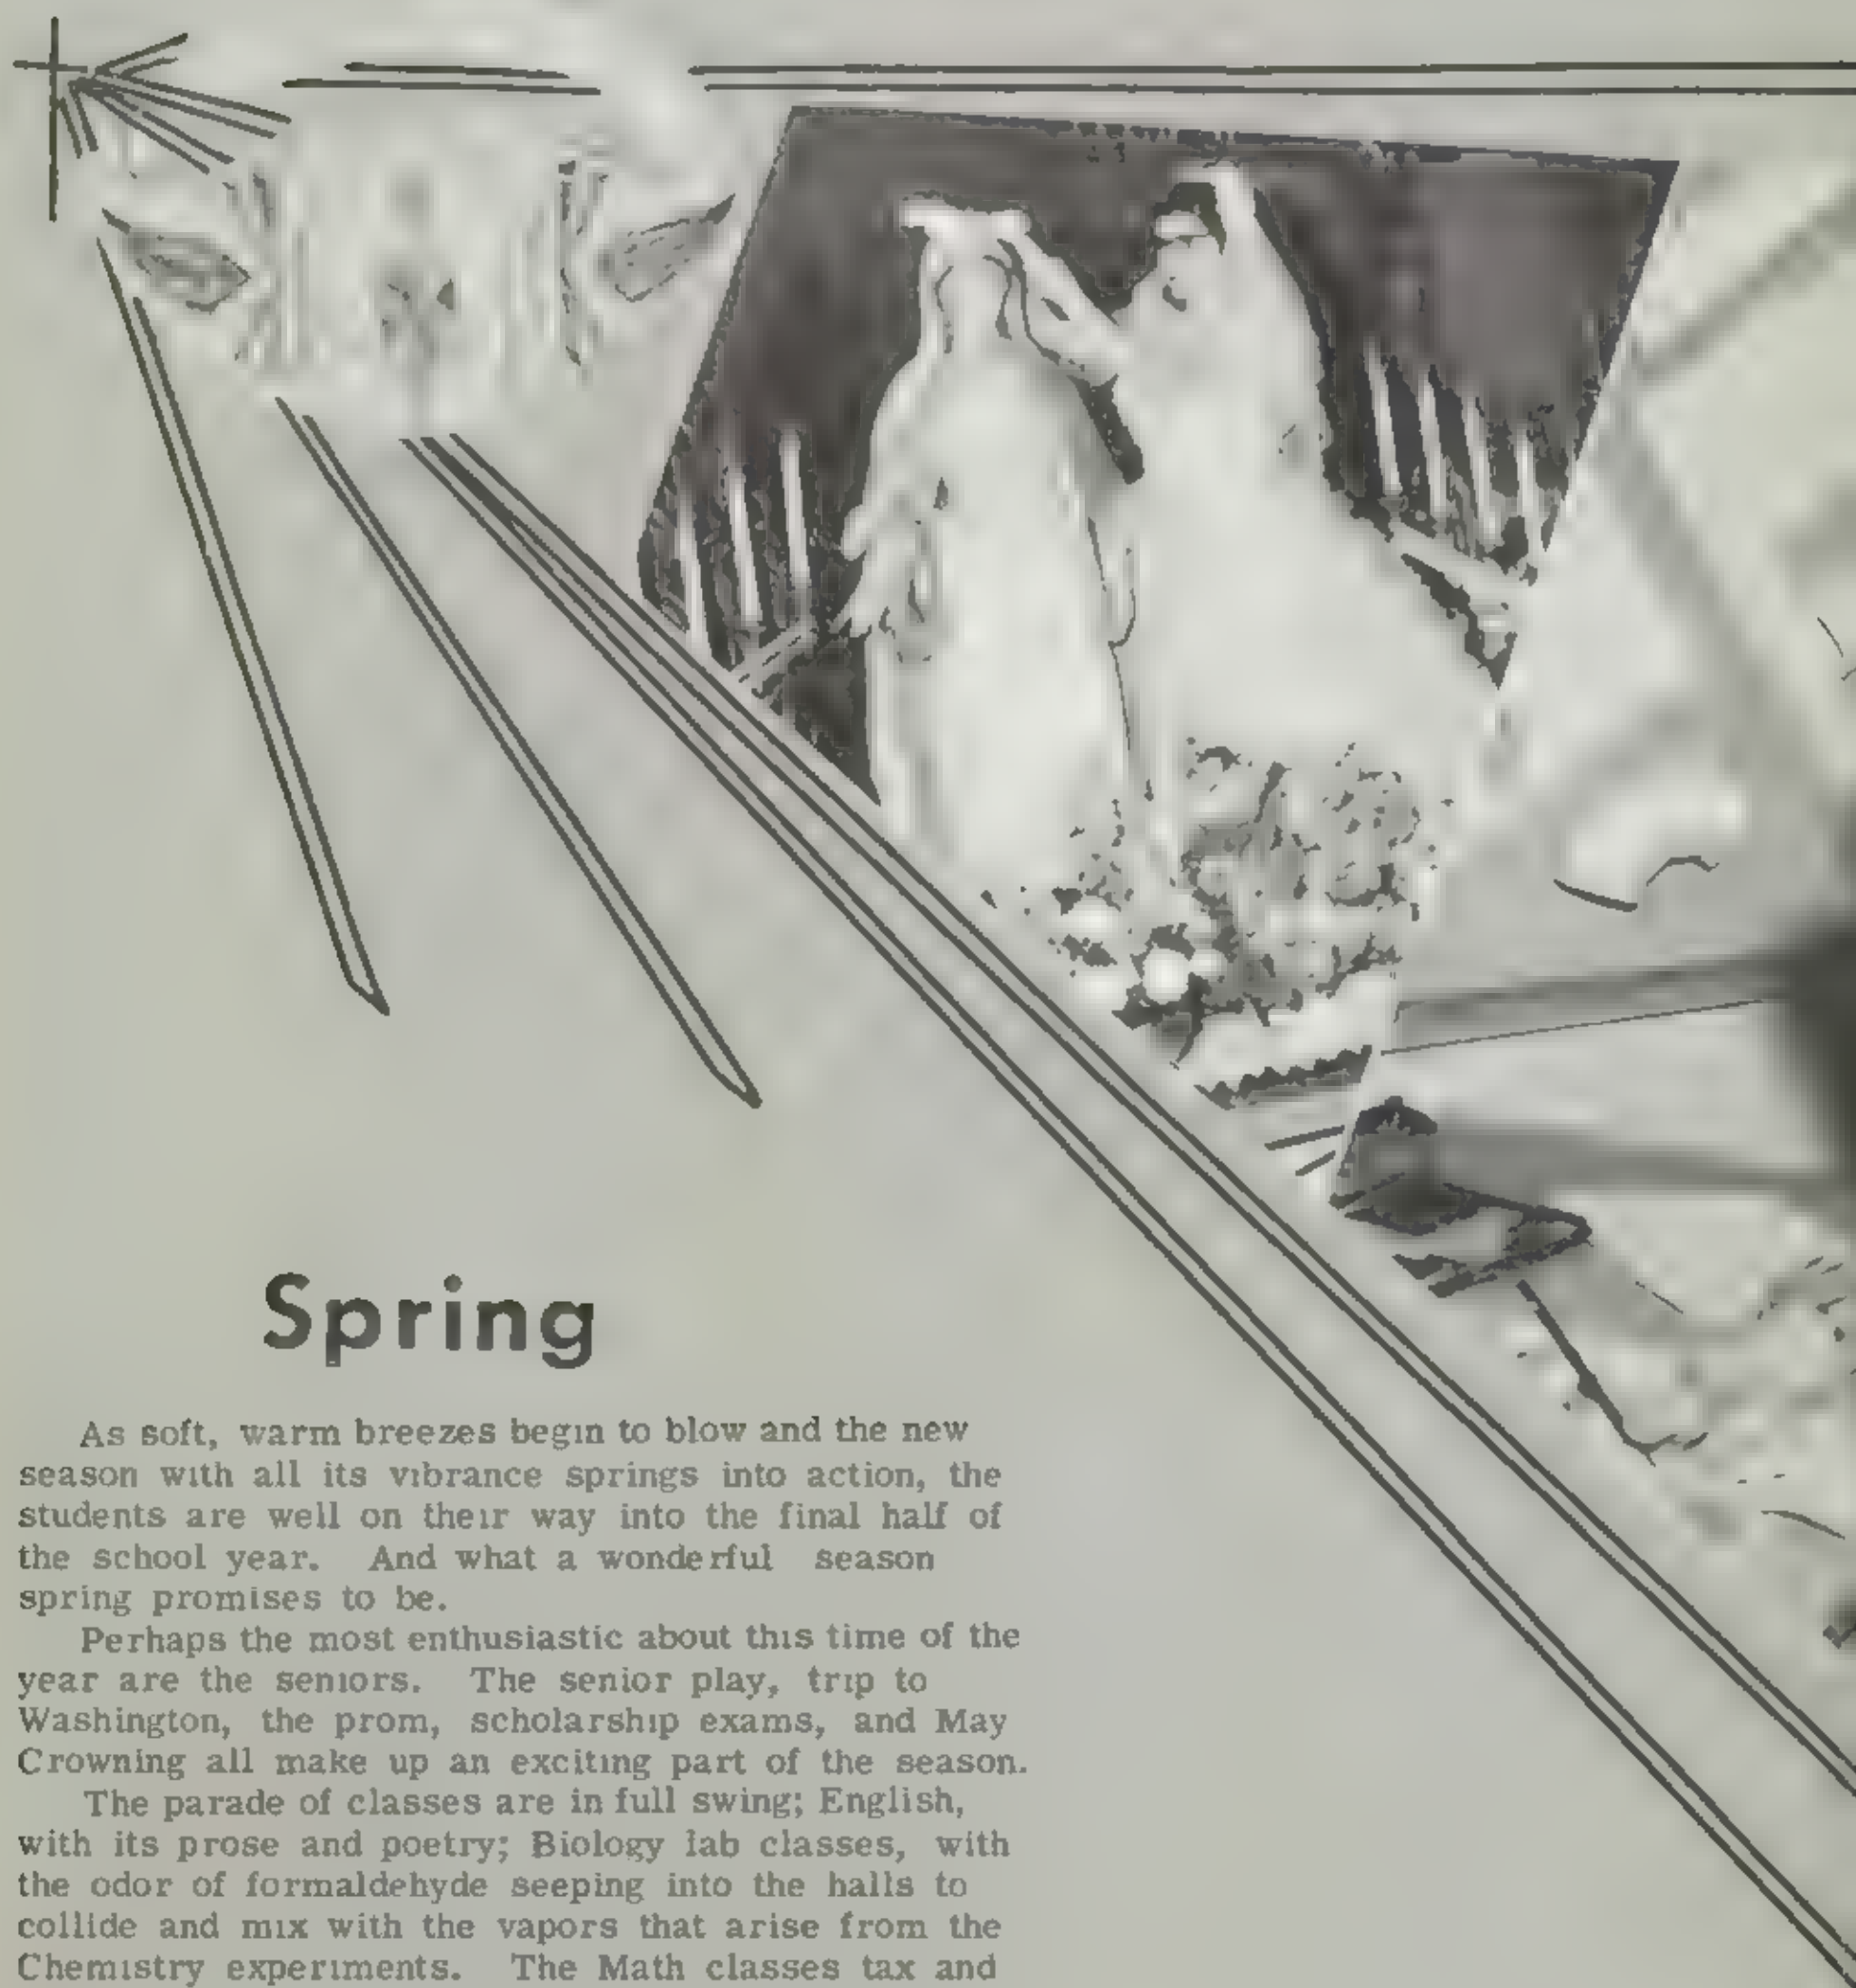

C. Androwsky, Sophomore President; R. Szabo, Alumni "57"; Mr. Abraham, Coach; Mr. Loranger, Instructor; P. Koziol, Senior President; and J. Lamson, Chairman and Student Council President; enjoy some of Father Zabelka's dry humor after a delicious breakfast of eggs and bacon.

A perfect day was climaxed and history was made at the Ring Swirl dance given for the Juniors. It was the first activity in the new Recreation Center.

Spring

As soft, warm breezes begin to blow and the new season with all its vibrance springs into action, the students are well on their way into the final half of the school year. And what a wonderful season spring promises to be.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic about this time of the year are the seniors. The senior play, trip to Washington, the prom, scholarship exams, and May Crowning all make up an exciting part of the season.

The parade of classes are in full swing; English, with its prose and poetry; Biology lab classes, with the odor of formaldehyde seeping into the halls to collide and mix with the vapors that arise from the Chemistry experiments. The Math classes tax and build the mind for greater things ahead. Language and History classes, making the past live, and the secretarial courses that prepare many a student for careers in the business world have their part; most important of all, however, is the Religion class where the students reach out into the supernatural striving to know God and their obligations to Him.

From the start to the near finish, there remains that ever firm tie of unity, in studies, activities, and prayer, the most vital spirit at Sacred Heart.

The New Recreation Center Strengthens Our Core of Unity

Juniors--An Ever Growing

Sister Mary Martin, O. P.

The Juniors of Sacred Heart are by no means a group of newcomers. The greatest majority of the class has worked, played, and prayed together ever since the early elementary grades.

The Juniors exercise a well-rounded enthusiasm and interest in the fields of many varied activities--both in their school life as well as their social life.

In preparing gateways to successful careers, the Juniors apply their earnest efforts to absorb all that is presented to them in order that they may best fulfill their goal. Subject matter reflecting the preparation for careers in the future science world prove most interesting to the Juniors.

Although football ranks as the favorite sport, the basketball floor, as well as the baseball field are represented by a good percentage of the eleventh graders.

The Juniors take great pride as a group in all their accomplishments thus far in the years gone by. We raise the hope that at the end of next year, their lasting impressions upon Sacred Heart will be of the finest.

Juniors Advance in Wisdom Knowledge

The Juniors are prominent members of the student body. They are well versed in the fundamentals and principles underlying the foundation of the curriculum of Sacred Heart. The girls are striving to become skilled secretaries, specializing in the secretarial sciences of shorthand and typing. The budding engineers of the eleventh grade are seriously interested in the courses of industrial arts and mathematics, while Modern History, with its historical data, and English Literature intrigues them all.

Vocational Training is an important part of our curricula. Drafting helps boys discover their skills and aptitudes which frequently lead into engineering careers. Accuracy and precision are of vital importance as demonstrated by these eager Juniors. Applying what they have learned the boys try their skills on designing combinations for the gym floor. Examining the scaled models are D. LaRochelle, Sr. Martin, and T. Kubik.

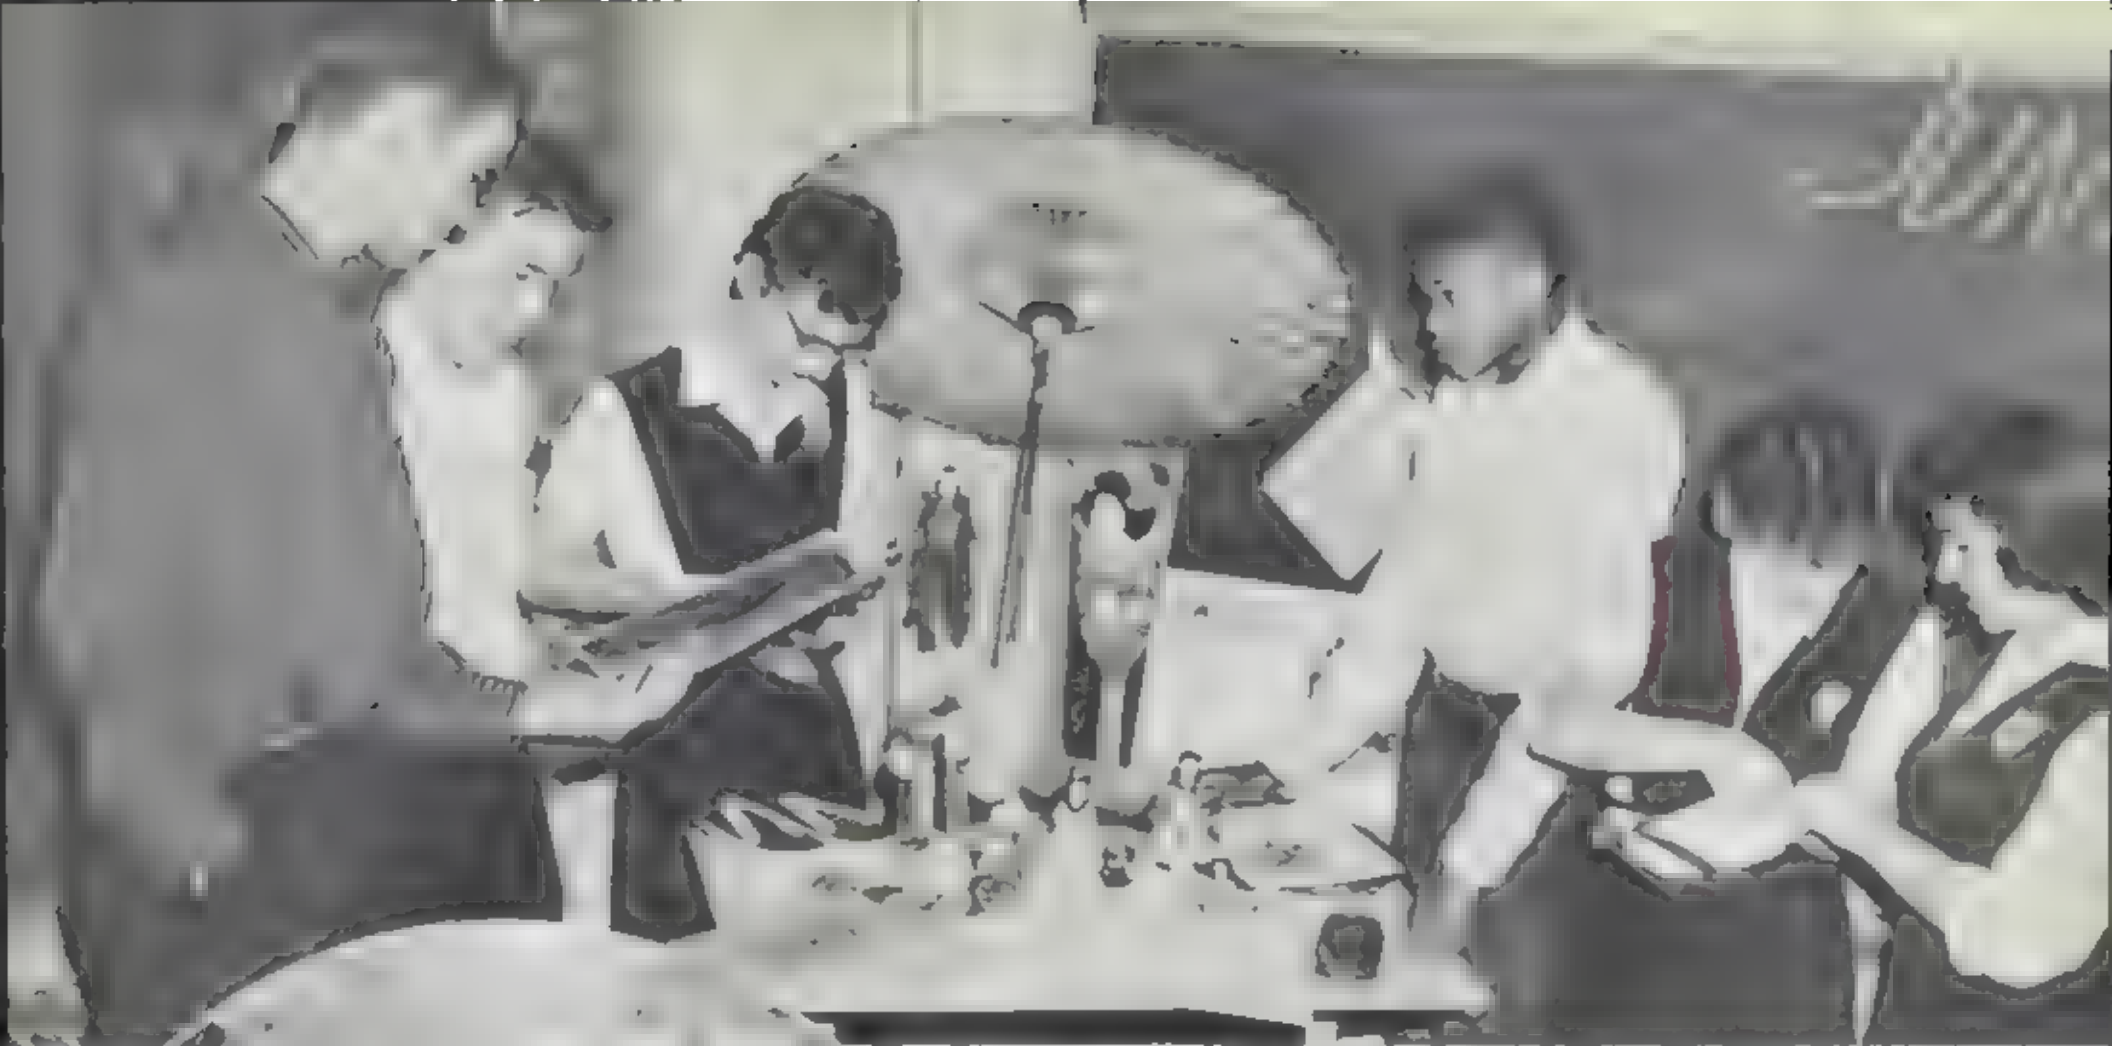

E. Nizol points out the fact in American Government that YOU must follow certain steps to correct abuses. Onlookers are F. Accardo, A. Stimac, and D. Guza.

GOVERNMENT • YOUR BUSINESS

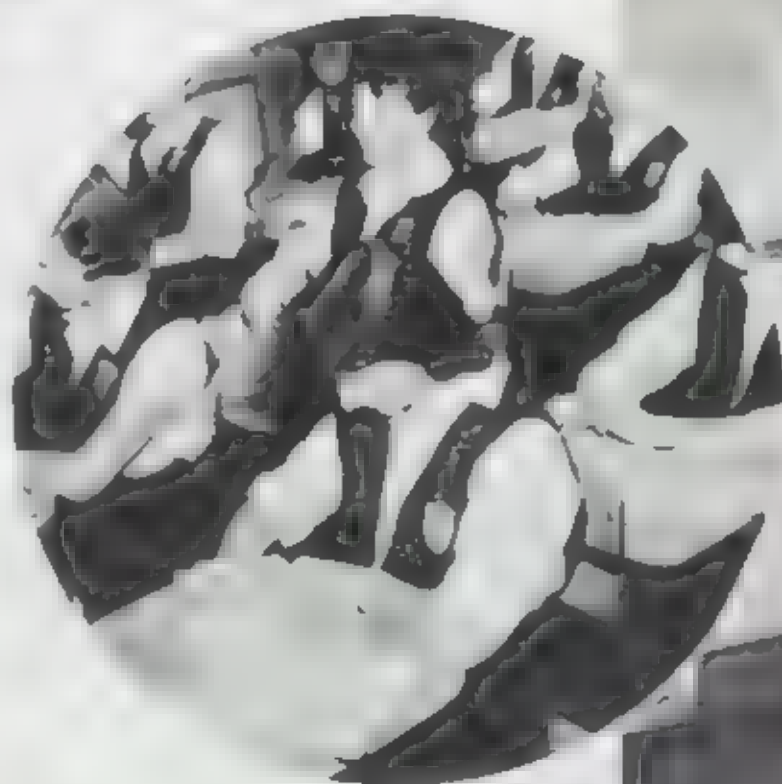

In the English class the study of Japanese Literature proved to be most fascinating as is evidenced by these students and their attractive display, much of which was contributed by Fr. George Zabelka, who spent two years in Japan.

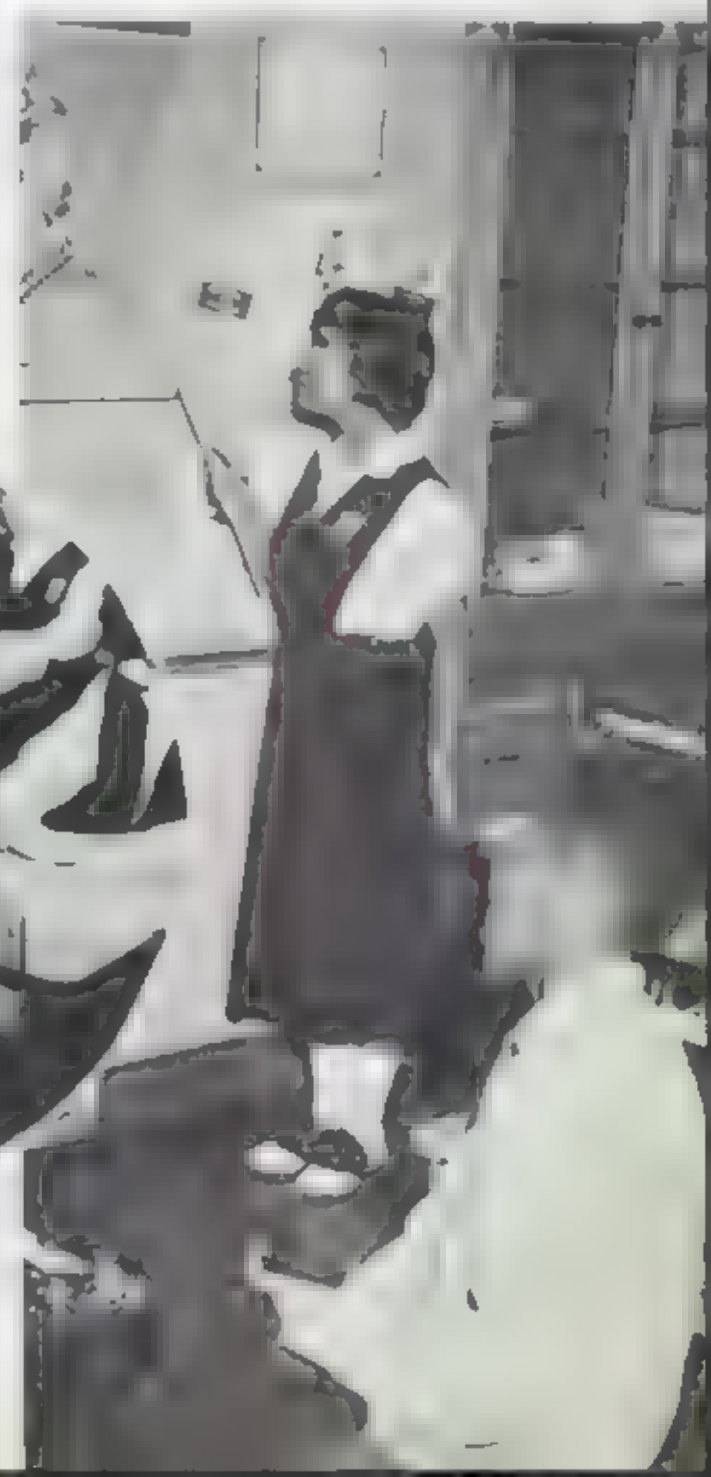

In Church History Fr. Buescher is amused at the answer L. Zielinski has just given, while the students try hard to cope with the idea.

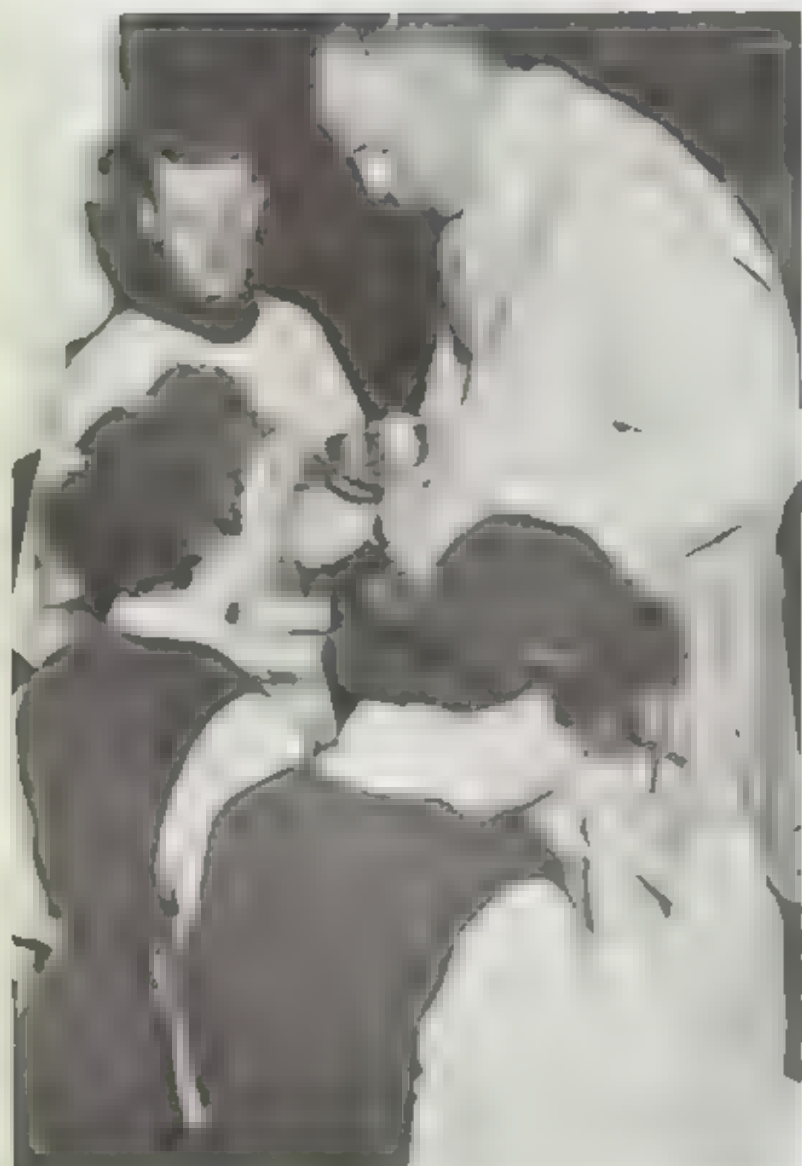

F. Lemek manages to continue working industriously while the other girls rest after a long spree of shorthand practice, "too pooped to participate".

J. Payne watches attentively as G. Johnson points out an important part of the typewriters mechanism. They have learned that not only the typewriter counts but also the speed and accuracy with which you use it.

Acolytes Serve God -----And School

The altar boys have claim of the highest privileges given to any Catholic laymen - that of serving the Mass at the altar assisting the priest. They must be able to offer their services at any time during the day, whether it be Mass at 5:00 in the morning, 3:00 Novena in the afternoon, or Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve. Through the patient assistance of Sister Norbert, they understand much of the liturgy of the Church, and they participate in many of Her ceremonies.

Freshmen girls receive Holy Communion from Fr. Buescher assisted by J. Verdier.

"O Mary We Crown Thee with Blossoms Today"

May, a specially dedicated month to the Blessed Virgin Mother, is a month producing the breath of new life after a long period of waiting. Beautiful, fragrant flowers grace the earth with the deep, unknown wonders and mysteries of creation.

The annual tradition of crowning Mary, Queen, with blossoms is the students' way of uniting their individual love and reverence in a visible way and renewing the devotion to her Immaculate Heart.

Christ, with His Church, the really true symbol of unity, presides over the ceremony in honor of His Heavenly Mother, the purest, most innocent human being ever created. She is, indeed, the "Loveliest Rose of the Vale."

Sodalists enter the Church singing to the Queen of Angels and men, while Fr. Zabelka, Fr. Crowley, and Fr. Buescher await the beginning of services.

Privileged to crown the Queen, is the Prefect of her Sodality, M. Fabris. Faithful sodalists (L. to R.) J. Kaza, M. Sabow, A. Bissonette, P. Panek, A. Palma, C. Sordyl, P. Koziol, J. Voelker gather at Mary's feet to pledge their love and devotion to God's Mother.

The Press Club Helps Unite The School'

As the school year progresses through its indispensable scenes and activities, its events and extra-curriculars will remain captured for decades to come in the minds and hearts of many a student here at Sacred Heart High. The quarterly achievement of the Press Club --Cor Echoes--assuredly recaptures and confirms, as a record, the most predominant and memorable as well as historical highlights.

Yes, it is through our school paper that we become better acquainted with the school; its functions, its goals, and its accomplishments.

Despite the fact that compiling and combining is no easy task, the perfect working co-ordination illustrated by each member diminishes the task to a highly productive stage. This is merely to say that while stories are being discussed and copies being prepared by Reporters of the Club, the layout staff is busily engaged in assembling headlines and arranging articles. Systematically, those skilled in typing, exploit their knowledge by preparing the articles for the printer.

Cor Echoes has been accredited many awards in the past. With the unceasing efforts and applications of the staff working as a team, our aim, in due time, is to capture equal recognition.

The staff composing the Club, exemplifies with a two-fold purpose, the term "benefit". That is: first, invaluable experience is gained in learning to assemble and put out a school paper; and secondly, intellects are unified and are made aware of the knowledge, inspiration, and warm humor dominating the campus.

United Through the "Cor-Echoes"

The staff find it gratifying to read a finished publication after realizing how much hard work they have put into it.

"The CORIER Immortalizes the School Year for the Future"

We, the staff, proudly submit for your approval the '58 CORIER.

It has been with great effort, high imagination, and that ever present urge to make our yearbook a little better than all others, that this annual has become a reality.

We have tried to make it interesting and complete to the most minute detail, capturing the spirit that prevails in our school.

As we leave the portals of Sacred Heart, we take with us the "CORIER" and raise the fondest hope that it may keep forever young the days spent at Sacred Heart.

R. Jakiemiec and J. Lamson take an overall look at the plans for the yearbook. All that work ahead and they're still smiling!

Confusion reigns supreme as the yearbook staff begins the long tiresome job of organizing the work to be done.

Junior Prom---An Enchanted Evening

A traditional night for the Juniors and Seniors of Sacred Heart to remember--Prom night. This night of nights began before the Blessed Sacrament with Benediction and singing--a fitting start by Catholic students for a perfect evening.

Following the ceremonies in church, the couples left for the Durant Hotel Ballroom, where the prom took place.

"Moonglow" was the theme for the prom. The mood was set to music by the orchestra of Brahm Ward, and it carried on through the evening.

The background for the crowning of the prom queen was a flower-covered wishing well, and in a prominent place in the ballroom stood a statue of the Queen of all Queens, the Blessed Virgin Mary.

This evening, as all evenings, had to draw to a close, but the students placed this night with their many cherished memories of the wonderful times spent together.

Juniors and Seniors attend Benediction before leaving for an enjoyable evening at Durant Hotel.

Our Pride and Joy.....The New Recreation Center

"With the opening of our Recreation Center, we have completed the third basic requirement for an efficient and highly productive school. First and foremost is the Church, administering to our spiritual needs; next, the school, where intellects are developed; and finally, a Center for the physical activities so vital in the training of the whole man." So spoke Father George Zabelka at the official opening of the Student Recreation Center.

Completely modern and very attractive in design, the building will be one of the best equipped in Flint. The modern folding bleachers will seat about 650. Other notable features are: an electric scoreboard, dimming lights, two large shower rooms, for both home and visiting teams, and a well-equipped cafeteria.

Of such things are dreams made, of this dream can S.H.S. be justly proud.

DEDICATION WEEK began with the formal opening and blessing of the Recreation Center by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Mayotte assisted by many priests and dignitaries of Flint. Over a thousand spectators witnessed this ceremony.

The Knights of Columbus initiated the program in a grand array of splendor as they formed the honor guard.

Leading the processional is Fr. Carl Reikowsky.

Father George Zabelka climaxed the Dedication Program with his prolific oratory.

Colorful folk dances added cheer to a festive afternoon. J. Germak, M. Kostyniuk, N. Lycolat, and I. Makohon dance the Ukranian Kateryna.

Hard Work Pays Off for Seniors as

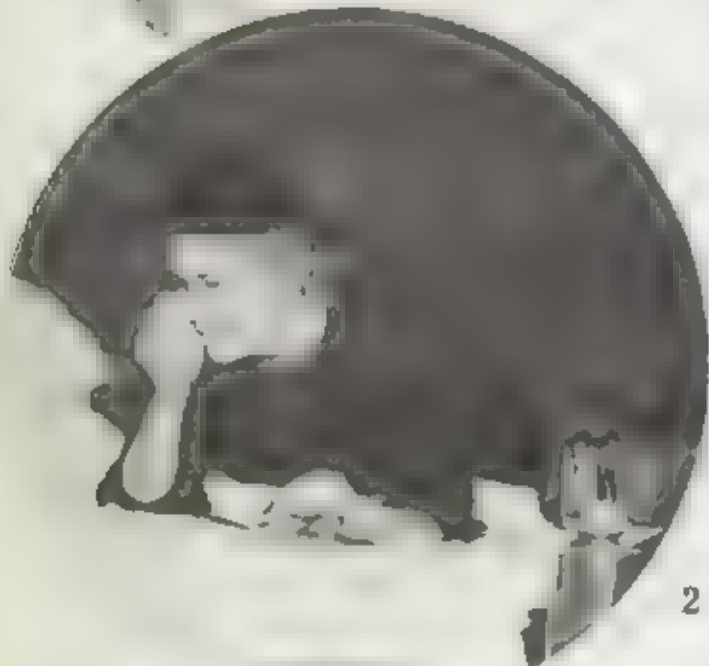

Wow! Leave it to young Bill Jackson to get himself into a terrible jam. But can you blame him for not correcting a wrong impression when fifty thousand dollars are at stake? You see...Bill is a Doctor of Philosophy and a college professor. So when Angela brings Bill to meet Uncle Henry at the hospital and introduces him as Dr. Jackson, Uncle Henry thinks he is a surgeon... and no one corrects him because he promises to give Angela and Bill $50,000 for the first life Bill saves. And that really starts something...for the regular hospital doctor has to leave town suddenly, and Bill is called upon to help in several humorous emergencies.

Then, there are the antics of the two hospital roommates, Dodson and Puckett, to keep things in a continuous uproar. Puckett, jolly and extremely mischievous, and Dodson, wealthy, crabby, and overbearing, keep the hospital staff in hot water from start to finish.

If you would have seen this play, you too would agree with the rest of the spectators, "There never was a dull moment".

Projects Exhibited at the Science Fair

Today's young scientists will be guiding the destiny of tomorrow's world. Thirty-four students submitted projects for the Flint Science Fair, delving into the fields of Biology, Engineering and Mathematics.

Below is a sampling of the budding scientists at work. Richard Koryciak (Senior) demonstrates the Geometric principles involving cylinders and cones. Joe Gresock (Junior) holds a muffle used in his electric furnace. Michael Lamson (Freshman) tests his Electric Anemometer. In the foreground is an Oscillating Steam Engine built by David Weldner (Freshman).

Among the many projects submitted by the Biology Class are the Nervous System constructed in 3D by P. Metzger (Sophomore) and the stages of the flower by Marilyn Moran (Sophomore).

Baseball Prospects Brighter for "58"

The Cougar baseball team had a very bad season, but next year's season looks more hopeful. The Cougars are only losing five men through graduation. Most of the up and coming players are freshmen and sophomores.

Sacred Hearts record for the season was 2 wins against 4 defeats in 6 league games.

Last season Sacred Heart lacked valuable pitching and fielding. The over-all hitting was good, but still without fielding they could not gain the desired victories.

SUMMER

As the warm rays of the sun begin to turn the thoughts of each student to the vacation days, the school door begins to close on another school year. There is a hint of sadness in the hearts of the students, especially the seniors. Graduation is a time of joy, joy at the thought of reaching the final goal of high school, but it also means a separating of ways for long-time friends and classmates.

Torch night ceremonies bring on the awards, class wills, and the handing down of the torches of leadership and truth. Closing graduation exercises begin with the Baccalaureate Mass in Church, as the seniors offer with the priest the most Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

With the presentation of diplomas, the seniors leave their alma mater to take their place in the adult world.

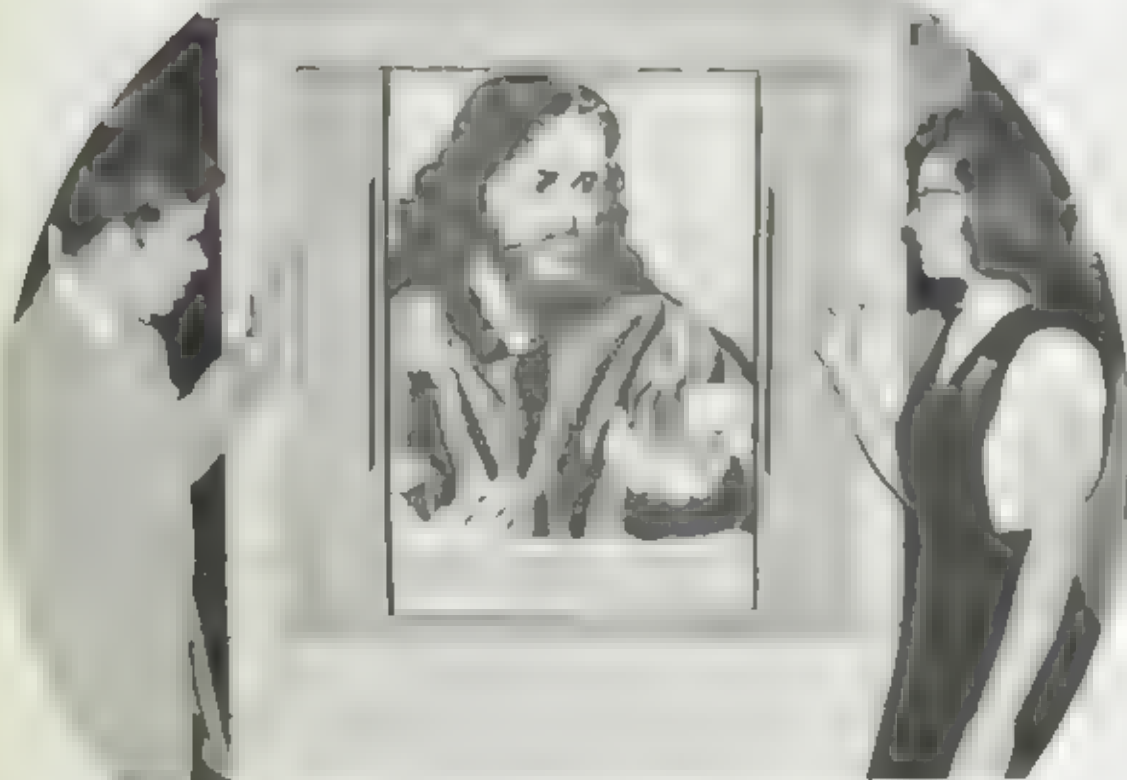

This closing ceremony is not the severing of the ring of unity but simply an expanding of it. In spirit the hearts of the senior class of '58 will remain with the other students who will return after summer vacation to continue their studies at Sacred Heart School.

A never ending chain of unity trails through the school as the door is closed on another year at Sacred Heart, a very memorable, united one.

Leaven of Leadership---The Student Council

Student Council officers Joseph Gresock (Vice-Pres.) and Jacquelyn Lamson (President) pause for a moment to meditate, realizing that the source of all POWER is God.

The purpose of the Student Council is to discuss and try to solve some of the problems, difficulties, and needs of the students of Sacred Heart. It is a link between the students and faculty.

The '58 Student Council has been kept busy raising money for the gym by sponsoring a magazine drive. They have also tried to help the students improve their spiritual life during Catholic Youth Week.

The main project was compiling information and the whereabouts of all Alumni. Hundreds of letters were sent out with questionnaires to be answered.

These and other activities make the Student Council an efficient functioning body in our school.

SENIORS BID ADIEU

It is with a tear-filled eye that we, the seniors, say adieu to you, our Alma Mater. For many years now, you have been our refuge from the storms of an uncertain world. Although we must now brave the storm on our own, we are by no means unprepared. You have given us, during our time spent with you, those essentials which we shall need; a good Christian Character, high ideals, and the comfort of prayer. We know that although you are sad, as we are, to see us leave, you, too, are proud that at least we have reached that goal that was set before us so many years ago.

After memorizing some of Shakespeare's immortal lines, Judy prepares to dictate, while J. Wisniewski manipulates the tape recorder--Stan anxiously awaits his turn.

Seniors

BRING TO A CLOSE FOUR SUCCESSFUL YEARS

The Senior class of '58" deeply appreciates all that the faculty and Alma Mater has taught them.

They venture into the world feeling confident and well prepared in both the sciences and the arts. Their four years at Sacred Heart have helped them to complete successfully all the prescribed courses of study. As the pages of the school year close, the seniors will branch off into fields of engineering, science, business, and homemaking.

When the years go by, the seniors will realize that their four years of hard work and study paid off.

Sister M. Gabrielle, O.P.

The Bookkeeping class is writing out the Bookkeeping cycle, step by step, to help them understand the problems that will arise in their classwork and homework.

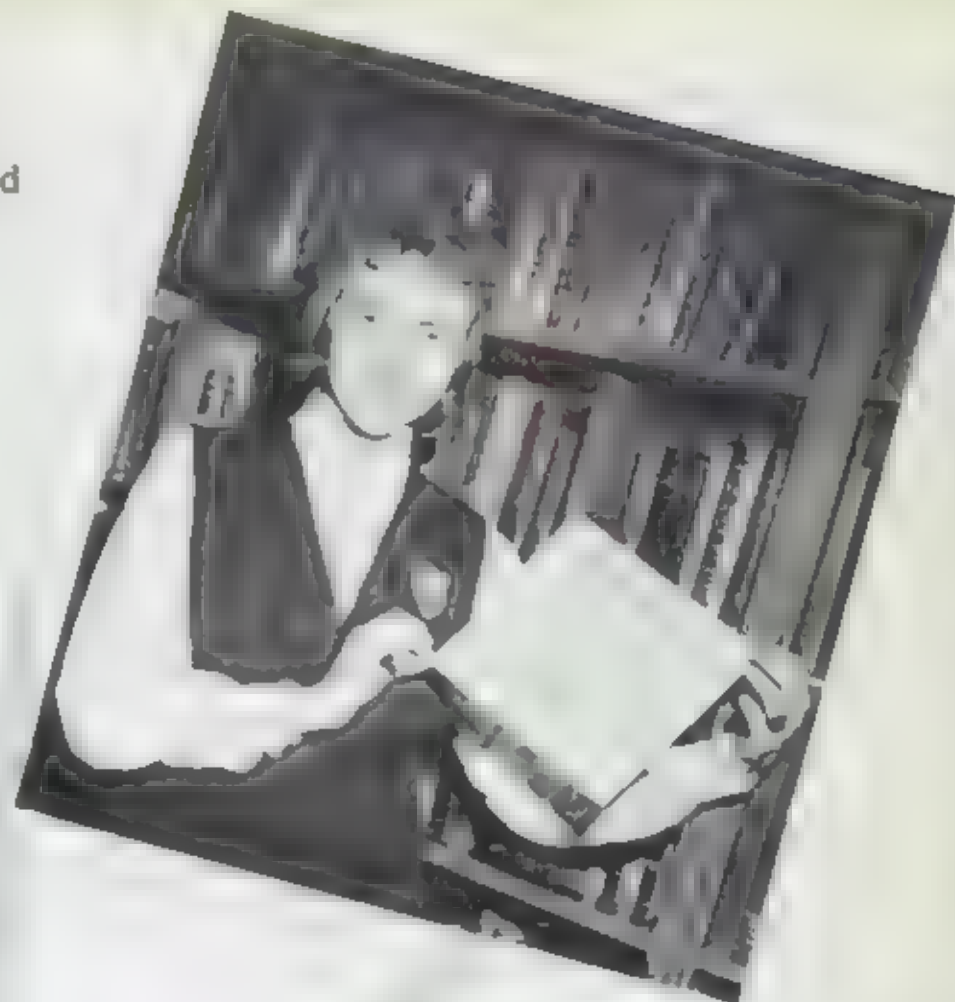

F. Kunc and E. Pieknik engaged in completing a homework assignment. Piled high on their desks are the books used throughout a busy school day.

In Physics class, J. Lamson, J. Metzger, and S. Zielinski study the principles of a steam engine by examining one built by Mr. Loranger. Sr. Pius is holding a smaller scale model of another type of steam engine which they will demonstrate next.

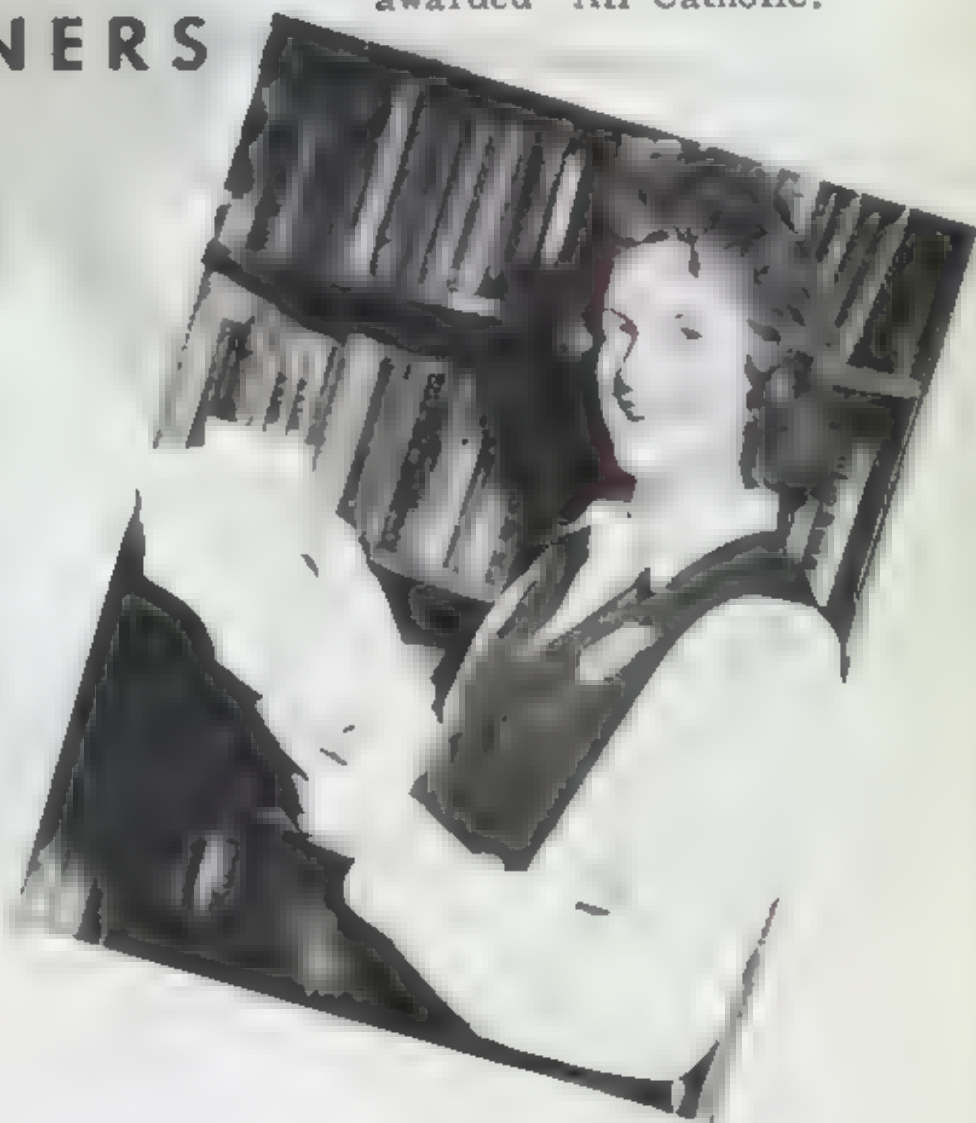

Stanley Zielinski proudly reveals the Optimist Merit Award which he won for outstanding achievement in scholarship, citizenship, and sportmanship, sponsored by the Flint Optimist Club.

Rosalie Jakiemiec, Co-Editor, displays the honor certificates the 1957 Corier received by capturing the highest rating from the National Yearbook Association. From the National Catholic Press Association, the Corier was awarded "All Catholic."

AWARD WINNERS

Jacquelyn Lamson exhibits the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award, for achieving the highest scholastic record in the science field through her four-year high school course.

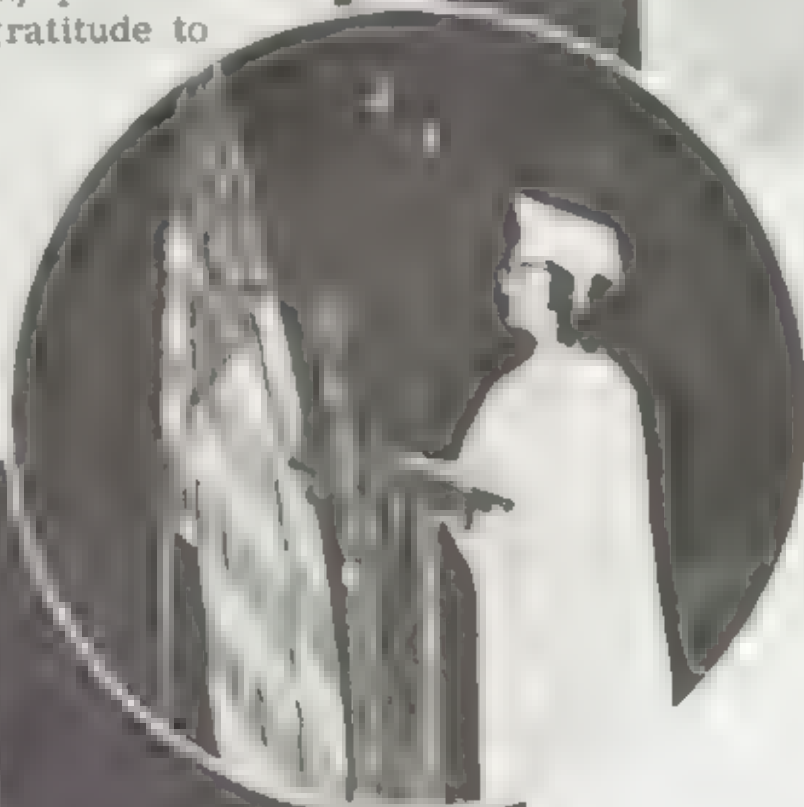

Patricia Marzonie discloses the certificate she was awarded for capturing honorable mention in a state wide contest on her meritorious essay, "Helping the Handicapped."

Torch Night-----

Salutatorian, Pat Panek, delivers her speech, promising loyalty and gratitude to her Alma Mater.

Gloria Favirs, Junior Class President, accepts the torch of Truth from Richard Zemore, Senior Class President.

Father George examines one of the torches while the Junior girls look on with anticipation of the time when each will carry this symbol of leadership.

One of the ceremonies preceding graduation is the traditional Torch Night. It is on this night that the seniors present the juniors with lighted torches symbolizing leadership and their becoming upperclassmen. On this night the entire high school gathers to bid farewell to the departing senior class.

The torches of truth are handed down to the juniors in the hope that they will keep the light of leadership and truth burning at Sacred Heart. They carry the torch with honor, for it symbolizes that they must carry on as future seniors.

Speeches are given, wills are read, and honors are presented to those who earn them throughout the four years of high school. Surely this is a sign of unity, uniting all the classes wherever their future steps may lead.

Fr. George presents Dick Szabo with an honor he well deserves.

Juniors and Seniors listen attentively to Fr. George as he distributes awards.

Inflames the School Spirit of Unity and Truth

The Torch of Truth will be held high by the future seniors. L. to R. P. Sutter, D. Koryciak, R. Jakiemiec, M. Fowler, P. Stybert, J. Gido, E. Pieknik, J. Wisniewski, G. Fabris, J. Deibis, A. Mangiaracina, J. Howell, J. Metzger,

M. Pascuzzo, R. Ralph, J. Trudell, J. Lang, G. Bruzewski, G. Boyer, J. Wittbrodt, B. Menosky, J. Klein, J. Hicks, F. Kunc, P. Koziol, D. Mulcahy, J. Carpenter, S. Zielinski, C. Repinski.

Dear Seniors,

Your graduation year is one that will stand out as unique in the history of the world. It was during this year that a man-made moon was placed into the skies. It is also rather paradoxical that the nation that made men turn their eyes to the heavens is a godless one. However, by this very act of turning the eyes and minds of men heaven-ward, they have helped them to see above the satellites, and Infinite Majesty of God's universe.

You are passing into this new era of Space Consciousness. May you move forward with confidence and courage in the knowledge and the training that you have acquired here, and may your actions always be guided by the great motto of your school "Veritas". Be honest with others; be honest with yourselves, and above all, be honest with God, and you will not fail to reach your final goal.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. George B. Zabelka
Rev. Fr. George Zabelka

Together We Worked To Reach Our Goal, Graduation

Graduation day is awaited with great anticipation by every student. On that day comes the climax and the conclusion to their days in school.

Emotions are mixed among the seniors when that day arrives. Gratitude is felt for the hard-working faculty and priests, and joy over reaching individual goals in high school. There is some regret, too, over leaving friends and classmates behind; but most of all there arises breathless expectations of the new places to be occupied in the world as adults.

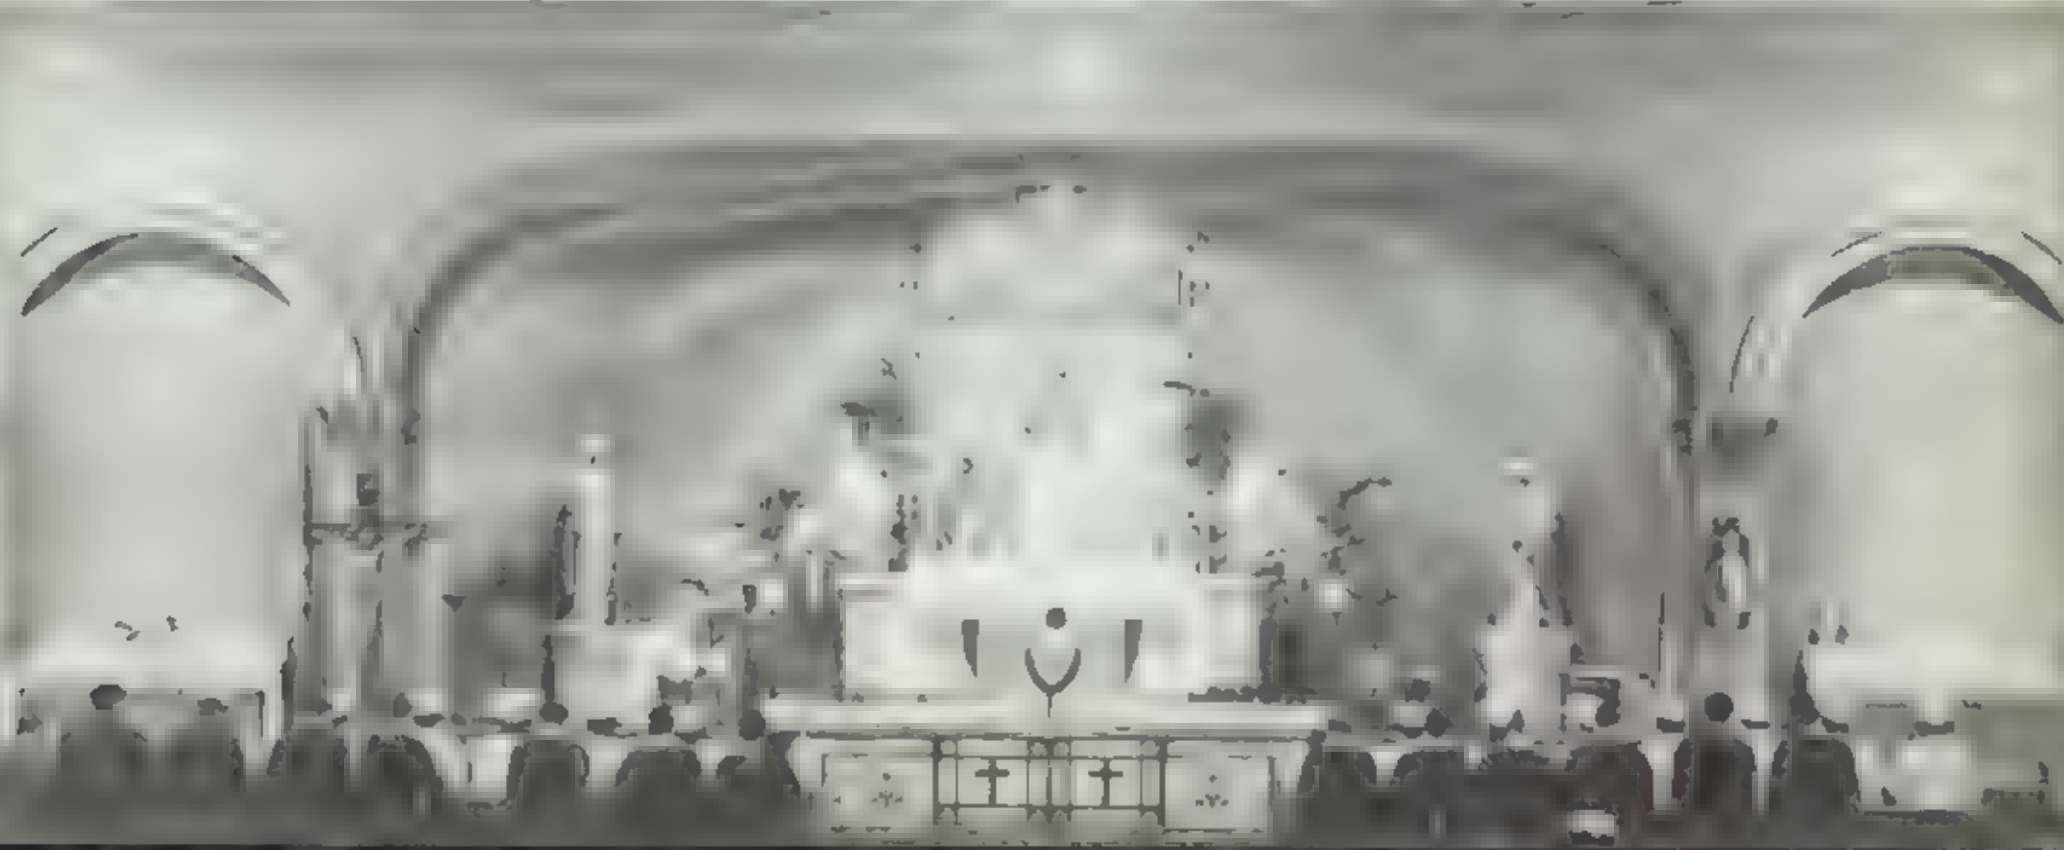

With a proud feeling the seniors attend the Baccalaureate Mass, and finally the graduation exercises, thus concluding their last day as students of Sacred Heart School.

Fr. George issues diplomas to Gary Viele, Stan Tarkowski.

Pat Panek, Frances Wolak lead the processional.

The Seniors attend the Baccalaureate Services, the last time they will appear as a class. Now they are at the beginning of their adult life. Though proud of their achievements, they are sad to leave their school days behind.

Fund Raising Fun

Fr. Buescher begs for a free throw after losing all his money at the other booths.

Come to the fair! The bright lights flash on happy faces. Spirits are high. Excited children dart from booth to booth while anxious parents scold to no avail. The children are not the only ones that enjoy a fair. As they leave, each adult's heart is light and happy and they make a firm resolution to visit each fair thereafter.

Pat Sutter tries to ring a cane at the cheerleaders booth, but without succeeding. Ah, well, Pat, the money went for a good cause.

Sacred Heart's own little Las Vegas, where the stakes are smaller and the mice a little brighter.

"Hail, hail the gangs all here", might have been the theme for Sacred Heart's carnival. Fun, excitement, and thrills were everywhere.

They Persevered.....

Smiling faces reflect thirteen happy years at Sacred Heart. Gathered around the Sacred Heart statue that adorns our halls are standing L. to R. P. Koziol, R. Koryciak, J. Klein, J. Wisniewski, P. Stybert, D.

Mulcahy, and A. Keyser. Kneeling from L. to R. are G. Boyer, J. Trudell, J. Metzger, M. Pascuzzo, P. Skarbek and R. Harrison.

Russ's Grill

Hey! "Watch out for flying students!" That's the cry of any pedestrians if they are in the vicinity of Saginaw and Stewart about 11:30. You guessed it, lunch hour. Most of Sacred Heart's high school students crowd into Russ's for cokes and hamburgers and if you're not out of breath from running chances are you'll eat that hamburg standing. The jute box blares the latest pop songs as the students literally shout to one another, the other never hearing anyway.

A big thanks to Russ for his friendly way and his delicious hamburgers.

FAREWELL SONG

Oh, we love thee Sacred Heart High that surrounds us here today,
And we will not forget
tho' we be far, far away.
To the halls of Sacred Heart High every voice will bid farewell,
And shimmer off in twilight like the old vesper bell.
One day a hush will fall,
The footsteps of us all will echo down the hall
and disappear,
But as we sadly start
our journeys far apart,
A part of every heart will linger here
In the halls of Sacred Heart High
Where we've lived and learned to know
That thro' the years we'll see you in the sweet afterglow.
